Journal of the House

NINETY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the
STATE OF MISSOURI
SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 2008

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

O Lord, our Lord, how excellent is Your name in all the earth.

You have declared to us from Your Word that wisdom is the principal thing and that should be our primary pursuit. It is more precious than earthly riches and nothing we desire can compare with it.

Father, we are determined to pursue wisdom and understanding, recognizing that wisdom coupled with good sense causes us to possess knowledge and good judgment. To fear You Lord is to hate evil, pride, arrogance, evil behavior and vicious speech. May this be the guiding principle of this session.

Your wisdom provides counsel, understanding and power. May we legislate by wisdom that we may establish laws that are beneficial and just.

Thank You, in advance, for granting us wisdom throughout this 2008 session. May we daily hear it, receive it, embrace it and apply it.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Missouri State Highway Patrol, Troop F Color Guard, presented the Colors.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER ROD JETTON

I want to take just a few moments to look back at the past because when you are in your last year you kind of look back and you wonder “have we made a difference up here?” And I will tell you, many of you weren’t here back in 2000 when I first was elected but it’s a lot different state. It’s a lot different House. And I think there are a lot of things that we as a whole, both Republicans and Democrats, can take credit for.

One thing I remember back to when I was elected - Governor Holden, to his unfortunate situation, inherited a pretty big mess to deal with budget wise. We were losing a lot of jobs and while he was governor we lost probably more jobs than any other state in the country. But I am proud to tell you we worked on tort reform, worker’s comp, unemployment, a lot of things. There was some controversy within parties but there was a lot of agreement on things within parties - stimulus packages, economic development packages. Today our state has created 90,000 new jobs and we’ve put people back to work. And in the House we can be thankful for that.

When I was elected we had a terrible budget situation. Governor Holden had to deal with it. There were no easy answers for him. And three years ago, when you elected me to be Speaker, we had a terrible budget shortfall. And now we have almost 500 to 600 million dollar surpluses. It’s a totally different budget situation that makes our life as House members, as we try to prioritize budget needs, a lot better.

Size of state government - For years our government had 65,000 state employees. Back when we took over – 62,000 state employees. Well today we have actually shrunk the size of the state bureaucracy and I think we’ve improved the delivery of services and the things that people depend on. We have less than 60,000 state employees and for the first time in anyone’s recent memory we’ve shrunk the size of state government.

Education funding - something that we all care about in both parties. We’ve actually increased education funding the last three years 452 million dollars. This last year we passed the largest education budget in the state of Missouri’s history and we did it together and I think that’s something we should be proud of.

When Governor Holden took over he had to cut higher education. He takes a lot of criticism for that but really he didn’t have a whole lot of places to turn to cut. We’ve added 74 million dollars to higher education in the last few years. Last year we put 45 million dollars into scholarships and I am proud to tell you 37,000 students got a scholarship to go to college this fall based on what we did last year. We can be proud of what we did there.

Let me tell you about transportation. You know we’ve gone from the 47th worst roads to the ninth best. We totally changed. MoDOT is now spending the third lowest administrative costs per mile. All of those things we can take credit in some of the policies we adopted here in the House. But the thing we should be most proud of is 161 fewer people died on our highways last year in the State of Missouri. And that’s a real difference for families all over.

You know last year we cut taxes for seniors and firefighters and teachers. We did that together, both Republicans and Democrats. This year 300,000 people have had their tax burden lifted just a little bit. And we still have budget surpluses even while we’ve done that. We should be proud of that.

And then something that might make my good friends on the Democrat side of the aisle happy. You know Governor Holden had to cut a lot of programs and it wasn’t programs that he wanted to cut. I know that. But we’ve increased funding for autism; for the SCHIP program by 51 million dollars; for First Steps; and something I care about - the food pantry tax credit we were able to do; and Utilicare for low-income people who need help paying utility bills. These are all things that when Governor Holden was governor, and the budget was tight, he couldn’t do. And I have to tell you, both Democrats and Republicans, the last few years we’ve been able to put money toward those programs. Some of us on the Republican side may not have been as excited about it, but you guys insisted on it and we did it and together we've helped a lot of people that needed help in the State of Missouri.

Now I am going to touch on one thing that might be a little more controversial - abortion. I think President Bill Clinton used to say that he wanted to make abortion safe and rare - safe and rare. Now whether you're pro-life or pro-choice, most people would like to reduce the number of abortions. And I will tell you that in the state of Missouri last year, we did the fewest number of abortions we've done in this state since 1975. And I guarantee you the abortions that were done were done in a lot safer way for those women. That is something we probably all should, and can, be proud of.

When I got elected we were the number one meth producing state in the country. And if you've got a family, or you've got kids, and you see this drug out there. We've actually lowered meth incidents in this state, since we took over and with the laws we've passed, by 55 percent. And that is impacting kids' lives every day in this state.

I think that in the House, we don't want to shortchange the Senate. We don't want to shortchange the governor. But let's be honest. In my opinion the Missouri House, the people's House; we're elected every two years, we're closest to the people more than anybody in this state. If you look at all these issues, we've produced more jobs; we've produced budget surpluses; we shrunk the size of state government; we've improved our roads; we've put more money into education; we've put more money in higher education; we've put more money into funding programs that could never have gotten money before - Utilicare, SCHIP, autism. And we've actually made our communities safer.

In my opinion, the Missouri House is the one that led these changes and made a difference. And it wasn't just Republicans and it wasn't just Democrats. It was all of us working together on these key issues. But there's one thing I may be more proud of than all of that. And I will tell you in my last year, it's the fact that I've watched us over the last three years become better friends on both sides of the aisle. I watched the debates last year and there were only two situations that I saw on the House floor last year where members got personal and a little testy with each other. We had our debates and our disagreements but they were professional; they were honorable; they were just the way a Democracy, and I think the founding fathers, designed it to be.

You know last year we had some tragic situations. We had some members who lost their wives, their fathers, their grandfathers. And you know, on both sides of the aisle when that happened we came to the aid of those people. And they were grateful we were with them. That's what friends do. We had some situations where we had some births, new babies, some celebrations, and a few marriages. And we celebrated those times together as friends. And I guess what I'm most proud of is that we've become better friends because we can actually go out to have dinner together - which we used to not do in this building - and that we actually know about each other's families. We may disagree with each other but we know we're all trying to make this a better state.

I think that's what has allowed us to lead this state. I am so proud that we have set an example of putting the partisan differences aside and working together to solve the key issues in a professional way - not that you agree but you did it in a professional way. We really changed this state and to me that's something we should all be proud of. And I thank you because we can't do it by ourselves. It takes all of us together to do it.

Now we have a few issues - I'll talk about a few things I hope we can work on in this last year. I know it's an election year and people say you can't do as much, but I will tell you the gentleman from Jackson, LeVota district, the new minority leader; I can't tell you how many times he and I have talked on the phone this Fall and Summer. Believe it or not, a Democrat and a Republican can pick up the phone and talk about how we're going to deal with an issue. Does that mean we agree? Not always, but we at least talk about what can we do to solve a problem for people in this state.

That's what I always hoped the House could be like because I am telling you, for some of you who are new who weren't here 4, 6, 8 years ago, it was not that way. All we ever did was fight and try to get the upper hand on each other. But that's not the way the new Minority Leader is. That's not the way I am. And I know, based on what I saw last year, that's not the way any of you are.

What do I think we need to look at? I am going to start with education. We've got the 44th lowest teacher salary in the nation. And I'm going to sponsor a bill myself, and of course it's my bill so I guess I'm a little bit positive on it, but I hope you'll join me in trying to increase the pay of our teachers and stop this teacher shortage so our kids can get a good education in the state of Missouri.

Another issue I think is very important is the Teacher Protection Act. We've worked on it a few years. It would reduce liability for our teachers and our administrators so that they can remove the tough discipline kids out of the classroom. We've had a lot of bipartisan support in the House on it. We've had a little trouble getting it through the Senate. But I think it's something we should try to continue to push as a House and, as we always seem to do, lead the charge on making things better for educators. I think we should pass the Teacher Protection Act again this year.

Another issue we've worked together on - we've got to do something to make sure Missouri is doing what it can to stop and stem the tide of illegal immigration in America and particularly in our state.

Another issue - and if you're like me from Marble Hill or wherever you're from, particularly it seems like St. Louis - we continue to hear horror stories of the increased property taxes and how that is affecting people all over the state, particularly those on fixed incomes. I hope we can work together to get something done to relieve the property tax burden in the State of Missouri especially on our seniors.

Again, I just want to thank everyone for the way things have gone the last few years. I really can't tell you how I'm looking forward to working with each and everyone of you. We've got such great people up here. And I will tell you when I was a freshman I wouldn't really have wanted people back home, or people around the state, to know how we treated each other and how we acted up here. Now I wish we could take a tour bus around this state and bring them all up here and let them see how we act because I think whether they're a Republican or a Democrat - well maybe some of our more hardcore Republicans and hardcore Democrats want us to fight a little bit more - but most Missourians would be proud and thankful for how we conduct ourselves. I just thank you for the way you treat each other each and every day we try to make this state a better place to live. Thanks.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 9.141, RSMo, the Bill of Rights was read by Patty Buxton, Revisor of Statutes for the Joint Committee on Legislative Research.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 94th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

---

SECOND DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

*Sing joyfully to the Lord, all you lands,
Serve the Lord with gladness.
(Psalm 100:1-2)*

Indeed, let us praise the Lord, and serve Him this day.

We thank You, our God, for bringing us to this second day of the 2008 Session of the Missouri House of Representatives. We thank You for the people who have sent us here and for the trust they have placed in us. Give us the grace and the courage never to betray that trust.

O Lord, give us a spirit of service that finds us always looking beyond personal gain, and beyond the districts we represent, to the common good. Lord, give us the vision to see what is the common good.

Finally, we pray for an integrity so great that, in serving the people, we are, at the same time, serving You.

We give You praise, and pray to You at this hour, for You are our Lord, our God, now and forever.

Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Patricia Stangl.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRD DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 14, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, as we begin this first full week of this legislative session, we dare not venture into the uncertainty of our tasks without acknowledging Your presence.

You've granted us safe passage once again, strengthened our minds and bodies, empowered us with the necessary knowledge to pass purposeful law, surrounded us with wise counsel and blessed us with supportive families. How can we not first give thanks.

Father God, grant us success today and throughout this week as we faithfully take up the business at hand. Help us to listen attentively and seriously examine each point of view presented before this body.

Now unto Him who is able to keep us from stumbling and in acknowledgment of Your presence, we ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Let us pray.

We stand before you, Almighty God,
Conscious of our personal sinfulness and failings,
But aware of your available mercy.

Guide us by your wisdom,
Support us by your power.

You desire justice for all.
Enable us to uphold the rights of others;
Do not allow us to be misled by ignorance
Or corrupted by fear or favor.

Unite us to yourself in the bond of love
And keep us faithful to all that is true.

(Adapted from BOOK OF BLESSINGS)

We will end this day giving careful attention to the state of our State; we pray for all the people of the State of Missouri. May we serve them with great strength in leadership and with caring in our hearts. We pray to You, Almighty God. You live and reign forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Matt Blunt, Governor of the State of Missouri. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the Assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR MATT BLUNT

CHANGE THAT IS WORKING

Lt. Governor Kinder, President Pro Tem Gibbons, Speaker Jetton, distinguished officials, judges of the Supreme Court, members of the General Assembly, Reverend Clergy, my fellow Missourians:

Just over 200 years ago, Lewis and Clark returned with their band of rugged explorers to tell the nation, and the world, about the treasures west of the Mississippi. Our state was the first of those treasures.

As the world looked to America, America looked to Missouri. Soon, our state was being settled by hard-working, independent, prudent, faithful, optimistic Americans. By 1904, the character of Missourians was widely-known. As the world descended on St. Louis for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, visitors were treated to "The State of Missouri," a book which described the spirit of our state as "the spirit of progress, tempered by conservatism." And the "spirit of a community, conscious of its own secure position...hospitable, generous, brave."

The spirit of Missouri has held fast. Missourians remain independent, hospitable, generous, and brave. We cherish individualism, tempered by the bonds of community and the Heartland values of faith, family, and freedom. We are practical. We seek solutions.

Missourians want and deserve government that reflects Missouri values, government which rewards work and responsibility, encourages creativity, protects law-abiding citizens, spends tax dollars wisely, and helps those who cannot help themselves.

Unfortunately, that is not always what they have received. Only four years ago, bad public policy was causing our state to lose jobs at an alarming - and unacceptable rate. Business-as-usual in the state capitol was hurting Missouri families.

Missourians demanded change: to put Missouri families, Missouri values, and Missouri taxpayers first. We embarked on a course to bring jobs back to our state. We have succeeded. Change is working. Since January of 2005, Missourians have created nearly 90,000 jobs.

Change is working. Missourians are prospering.

Tonight, I am pleased to report: our economy is growing, our schools are improving, our health care system has been transformed for the better, and, most importantly, because we have the strength of Missourians as our foundation: THE STATE OF OUR STATE IS STRONG.

RESPECTING MISSOURIANS' HARD EARNED DOLLARS

The changes we have made are working, but I know that many Missouri families are struggling with mortgages, three dollar a gallon gasoline and a government in Washington that fails to address their day-to-day problems.

Now is not the time to go back to the old ways of bigger government, higher taxes, more lawsuits, and too much regulation. The changes we secured - lawsuit reform, regulatory improvements, and working with rather than against farmers and small business owners - were vital in creating new jobs.

Equally important was responsible stewardship of taxpayer's hard-earned dollars. All too often in the past, state government saw tax collection as a natural right of government rather than as a necessary evil. Spending went up, and, if we had not stepped in, more job-killing tax hikes would have followed.

We inherited a state budget that was broken and ruined by profligate spending. Many claimed it would be impossible to save the wrecked budget without increasing taxes. We proved them wrong. We eliminated tremendous amounts of waste and attacked fraud. We increased funding for education at all levels. And we fixed that inherited budget crisis WITHOUT raising job-killing taxes. In fact, we cut taxes. We took our state from a budget crisis to three consecutive budget surpluses.

We will not go back to the old-way. We will continue on our changed course. The budget I submit tonight reduces taxes, helps thousands of working Missouri families afford their own health insurance; supports law enforcement; and continues to increase our investment in education. My budget will increase opportunity and reduce taxes.

A WORLD CLASS EDUCATION

As long ago as 1786, Thomas Jefferson articulated a principle that became a bedrock Missouri value. Jefferson wrote: "By far the most important bill in our whole code is that for the diffusion of knowledge among the people. No other foundation can be devised for the preservation of freedom and happiness." It was true then and it is true today. Education is the most important investment we can make in our own, and in our children's future. It promotes our freedoms. It promotes our happiness, and, by creating opportunity, nurtures a society of rising prosperity.

Unfortunately, under the old way, education had become a pawn in budget battles. Students, teachers, and classrooms suffered under the way things were. When education was just an afterthought, it was easily sacrificed to cover out-of-control spending in other areas.

Missourians wanted a state government that would put classrooms, teachers, and, most importantly, students first. And that is what we have provided. Education is my highest budget priority.

By passing my budget, you will ensure, once again, that Missouri teachers and students have the resources they need to succeed. And when passed, we will have achieved a remarkable feat. By having the vision to look ahead and the fortitude to keep our commitments to the people of Missouri, we will have increased our total investment in education by 1.2 billion dollars.

My budget recommendations this year include significant increases in funding at all levels - from pre-school to graduate school. Elementary and secondary schools receive an increase of 121 million dollars or more than 4 percent from last year. Missouri colleges and universities receive more than 54.2 million dollars in direct funding, an increase of more than 6 percent. That includes funding to train more doctors, nurses, dentists, and pharmacists to meet the health care needs of Missourians.

Today's technology-driven economy places high value on skills in math, engineering, technology, and science. To ensure that the next generation enjoys even greater prosperity, we must provide our students with a world-class education in these subjects. We want our students to do more than merely keep up with their peers in other states and other countries. We want them to lead the world.

We have already taken several steps forward. We trained hundreds of Advanced Placement teachers and helped more students take Advanced Placement math and science tests. We built more technologically-advanced classrooms, and we funded after-school programs in math and science.

Our changes are working. Academic performance is improving. Missouri fourth and eighth-graders posted significant gains in the 2007 school year on national math tests. Missouri was one of only six states with fourth-graders who scored higher on all five sections of the national math exam. Missouri high school students also improved. A record seventy-four percent of Missouri seniors took the ACT last year, and they beat the national average.

These results are encouraging. But we must do more. I want our students to be better than above-average. I want Missouri students to be at the head of the class.

Tonight, I recommend increased investment in math and science education. I recommend three-quarters of a million dollars to train nearly 1,000 new Advanced Placement teachers and to help more than 6,000 Missouri students take Advanced Placement tests. I recommend 5 million dollars to create 100 technologically-advanced classrooms and to equip 300 classrooms with advanced math and science curriculum. And I recommend 1.1 million dollars for after-school programs, which help students learn, stay fit, stay safe, and stay out of trouble.

Missouri colleges and universities were also neglected by the failed priorities of the old budgets. We needed to invest in better classrooms and labs, and we are doing so.

Last year, for the first time ever, in order to protect Missouri families from future unreasonable tuition hikes, we capped tuition increases, and we launched the Lewis & Clark Discovery Initiative. Thus far, we have invested 289 million dollars for dozens of world-class learning centers to better compete with rival states.

This year, I recommend further investment. I request 31 million dollars for construction, renovation, and improvement of the Ellis Fischel Cancer Center at the University of Missouri, and another 15 million dollars for the Pharmacy and Nursing Building at the University of Missouri at Kansas City.

I also recommend continued increases in scholarship funding. My budget includes more than 25 million dollars for A+ student scholarships, helping more than 20,000 Missourians attend community colleges, nearly double the program's funding since January of 2005. And it includes even more significant increases in need-based scholarships.

When I took office, Missouri state government spent just 25 million dollars on need-based scholarships. We created the Access Missouri Scholarship initiative to simplify the application process for students, and we dramatically increased funding. Before Access Missouri, we issued 16,400 scholarships. So far this year, with Access Missouri, we have helped more than 36,000 students.

One of those students is here tonight. I would like to introduce you to Traci Clark and her daughter Bree. Traci is a nursing student at the University of Missouri at St. Louis. During a recent visit to UMSL, Traci told me that her daughter inspired her to go back to school, and that Access Missouri was vital to make college affordable, and her dreams come true. Traci is a great example of how the Access Missouri scholarship is allowing Missouri students to reach their full potential and be of service to our fellow Missourians in the years to come. Traci and Bree: thank you for being here.

Tonight, I recommend 100 million dollars for Access Missouri scholarships - quadrupling our investment in need-based scholarships during my administration. This four-fold increase in scholarship funding will expand opportunity for thousands of Missourians studying to make their lives better and Missouri more prosperous.

The funding recommendations in my budget will provide our schools, teachers, and students with significant resources to be successful now, and in the future. Unlike in the past, we will not leave our schools, teachers, or students scraping for left-overs. And I will keep my pledge to never withhold funds that you appropriate for our public schools.

We had a vision for a better future. We set priorities. We led. We maintained the resolve necessary to implement positive change. We will continue to advance. With this budget, over four years, we will have invested an additional 1.2 billion dollars in education.

PROTECTING MISSOURI TAXPAYERS

We have also protected Missouri taxpayers. Last spring, we cut taxes for Missouri seniors by passing the Senior Tax Justice Act, which will end state taxation of Social Security benefits.

Over the past three years, we have demonstrated that effective government need NOT be an intrusive, tax-raising Goliath. In fact, the opposite is true. As government wanders where it does not belong, it loses its effectiveness.

I want to ensure that state government serves citizens effectively and is directly accountable to the people who pay the bills. That is why I created the Missouri Accountability Portal, an Internet site enabling Missourians to track the expenditure of all tax dollars in near real-time. To guarantee future transparency, I urge the General Assembly to make the Accountability Portal permanent.

I also want to ensure that Missourians have a government they can trust. In 2006, I banned gifts from lobbyists to any employee of the Governor's office. I urge you to apply this ban on lobbyists' gifts to the entire executive branch.

Missourians must have a say over taxes and spending. When courts order higher taxes, it is taxation without representation, and against the first principles of democracy. This is America. People should never be taxed without their consent. Yet, courts elsewhere are beginning to usurp powers they do not have. One such area is the definition of marriage, which Missourians placed off limits to unelected judges in 2004. Courts are also beginning to hijack the powers to tax and spend. In Missouri a federal judge ordered new taxes. Just next door, a state court in Kansas recently followed that poor example. The time to close this door is NOT after a future Missouri court discovers a new and illegitimate power to tax. The time to close this door is NOW.

In America, the powers to tax and to spend are for the people directly, and their elected representatives. To protect government by the people, I recommend that you place on the ballot a measure to ensure that Missouri will never have judge-imposed taxes.

Though we have cut state taxes, not all local governments in Missouri have followed our lead.

All Missourians pay property taxes, whether directly or through higher rent. Rates are set by locally elected boards, but we can take action to stop these excessive local increases.

State law is flawed because it allows hidden tax increases, through mandated increases in property valuations. Property assessments and re-assessments should be fair. All too often, they have instead become a shadowy path to higher taxes. I look forward to working with you to develop tax reform that includes truth in taxation and mandatory levy rollbacks. It is imperative that all Missourians benefit from this relief. Let's not pick and choose who gets property tax relief. Let's protect all Missourians from these massive local property tax increases.

INCREASING ACCESS TO HEALTH CARE

By sticking to responsible budgets, making record investments in education, and protecting Missouri taxpayers, we have succeeded in making Missouri a state of greater opportunity. But work remains. I want more Missouri working families to have access to affordable health care. Missouri is among the 20 best states for the share of people with health coverage. I want us to do even better and I will not rest until every Missourian has access to affordable health care.

I inherited a failing government health care system. Outcomes were of little concern, and spending was out-of-control. Hundreds of thousands were on the rolls whose continuing eligibility had not been verified. Under the old way, rooting out fraud and waste was less important than growing programs and throwing tax dollars at problems.

We took a better approach. We sought, and found, solutions that work. We saved the health care safety net by making responsible decisions to focus on the neediest Missourians. We have increased health care spending. And last year, we strengthened the safety net by creating Missouri Health Net.

Unlike the old system, Health Net is about results. The old system treated people like numbers. Health Net treats people as valued patients. Health Net empowers participants through personalized care in a health care home, and, for the first time in Missouri history, guarantees access to primary and preventative care. We should always remember that the best solutions are not government mandates or bigger government programs. Telling a patient, "the bureaucrat will see you now" would be a cure worse than the sickness. Impersonal government-run health care is bad for Missouri families, bad for Missouri doctors, and bad for taxpayers.

I believe in solutions that put Missouri families in greater control of their own lives.

Last fall, I announced the creation of INSURE MISSOURI, to make health insurance more affordable for working Missourians, by relying on the proven Missouri values of work, personal responsibility, and free enterprise.

WORK - Missourians believe in work. We want to help those who are trying to help themselves and their children. INSURE MISSOURI meets the test of rewarding work.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY - INSURE MISSOURI is no handout. Sharing in the cost provides people with the esteem that comes with ownership.

FREE ENTERPRISE - INSURE MISSOURI is not a government program in constant danger of massive waste and cost overruns. Unlike proposals that want to go back in time, INSURE MISSOURI comes without a tax hike. It takes existing resources and helps Missourians buy their own personal health insurance, at an affordable price.

Starting next month, more than 54,000 Missourians can gain immediate access to affordable, high quality care. Those covered will have incomes below the federal poverty line. Co-payments will be no more than three dollars per visit.

This summer, access to coverage will move above federal poverty. Missourians will make contributions based on income. My budget will help an additional 56,000 Missourians buy their own personal health insurance.

Once fully implemented, INSURE MISSOURI will offer access to care for nearly 200,000 Missourians. This new direction has us on the path to affordable coverage for all.

AUTISM

My budget also includes a substantial increase for autism funding. Last year, we provided 3.9 million dollars to shorten the waiting lists for families seeking services for early intervention and diagnoses of autism and to fund pilot projects to determine best practices in treating children with autism. This year, I recommend 6.4 million dollars to further reduce the waiting list, one million dollars for projects designed to expand treatment and services, and 5 million dollars for the Thompson Center in Columbia, a world-class treatment and research facility we will help build right here in central Missouri. Combined, this funding will improve the lives of Missouri families struggling to overcome autism.

PROTECTING MISSOURI VALUES

We have also championed the values that define who we are as a people. Since January of 2005, we have enacted new laws to reflect our profound respect for the inherent dignity of each and every life.

This year, we must take further steps. I believe the vast majority of Missourians agree that we should do all we can to encourage young parents to choose life. That is why my budget again includes increased funding for the Alternatives to Abortion program.

It is also why I support legislation to strengthen Missouri's informed consent laws. We have a moral obligation to protect Missouri women and defend the dignity of human life. We must ensure that expectant mothers have all the information they need to make fully-informed decisions, including the right to view an ultrasound of their child. As any parent can tell you, there is nothing so powerful as that first glimpse of your child. It enhances early bonding and it will encourage expectant parents to choose life.

HONORING OUR MILITARY HEROES

From Bunker Hill to Baghdad, Missouri veterans have served for freedom and country rather than personal glory, and for that, they deserve our esteem, respect, and gratitude.

War takes an incredible toll on our warriors and their families. They have earned a hero's welcome, and any help we can provide to aid their transition to civilian life. This year, I recommend 2.5 million in new funding for veteran's mental health and sheltering services. The funds will be used to ensure that our returning Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, and Marines have the care they need as they return to civilian life.

Last year, we cut taxes for all Missourians who purchase health insurance. We cut taxes to protect family-supporting manufacturing jobs. And we passed legislation to end state income taxes on Social Security benefits. This year, I propose a fourth major tax cut. I urge the General Assembly to honor our veterans and eliminate all state income taxes on military retirement benefits.

Tonight, we are joined by a Missourian who will benefit from that tax relief, Chief Warrant Officer Rodney Hughes, a veteran of the War on Terror. Chief Warrant Officer Hughes has 25 years of unbroken service in the Missouri National Guard, including one year in Iraq. He is here tonight as a representative of an estimated 50,000 Missourians who have served our country in the Global War on Terror, and hundreds of thousands of Missourians who have served in the past. Chief Warrant Officer Hughes, we salute you, and all of your fellow warriors.

AGRICULTURE AND RENEWABLE FUELS

My administration has fully returned to the Missouri tradition of encouraging agriculture, helping Missouri family farmers realize proper reward for their toil on the land.

Every year, America spends billions of dollars on foreign oil from anti-American suppliers. Ethanol and bio-diesel can and should be used to break this reliance on foreign oil and protect our environment. I believe we would all prefer to fuel our cars with renewable fuel grown by a Midwestern farmer rather than oil from a Middle Eastern dictator.

We have encouraged the production of ethanol to help America move toward environmentally-friendly energy independence. Earlier this month, we became just the third state to implement a renewable fuels standard, increasing the use of ethanol in Missouri. In each of the past three years, I have recommended full funding for ethanol and bio-diesel incentives, and I do so again tonight.

To further grow alternative fuel production, I support a B5 standard for diesel fuel sold in our state. Bio-diesel from soybeans has proven much more environmentally-friendly and better for air quality than regular diesel. Research has shown that it cuts carbon dioxide and cancer-causing emissions by more than 75 percent. Adopting a B5 standard will reduce carbon monoxide emissions by 168 million pounds. A B5 standard will improve our air quality and makes sense for Missouri.

PRESERVING OUR ENVIRONMENT

We have a moral obligation to protect our environment. We seek long-term solutions.

Last year, we passed the Hunting Heritage Act to protect thousands of acres of ecologically-diverse flood plain from taxpayer-financed development.

We also passed the Green Power Initiative so that, by 2020, 11 percent of the energy used in our state will be produced from renewable sources. This year, I support incentives for the construction of alternative fuel pumps, for the purchase of environmentally-friendly hybrid vehicles, and for the purchase of cleaner burning alternative fuels.

Of course, there are two sides to the energy equation. We can get our energy from greener sources. And we can also improve energy efficiency. I started an energy efficiency initiative within state government to save taxpayer money and improve Missouri's environment. For example, in Jefferson City, previously wasted energy from a landfill will heat an entire prison. In total, efficiency and innovation will save Missouri taxpayers more than 15 million dollars per year and help protect our environment.

To build on that success, this budget includes 400,000 dollars for energy audits outside of state government. We will provide 100,000 dollars for voluntary audits to help small businesses save money and energy, and 300,000 dollars to conduct audits of municipal water systems, amongst our largest users of electricity. These audits will help identify inefficiencies - helping to save energy, lower costs, and improve Missouri's environment.

To reward efficiency by consumers, I support legislation creating a week-long "SHOW-ME GREEN" tax holiday to eliminate sales taxes on Energy-Star certified efficient appliances. This will give Missouri consumers an additional incentive to buy energy efficient products - saving energy, saving money, and preserving our environment.

SAFE AND MODERN TRANSPORTATION

Before I took office, our state highways and bridges were crumbling. Over 87 percent of Missouri's roads were in less than good condition. Today, 74 percent of Missouri highways are in good condition and Missouri roads are safer. Last year, Missouri led the nation in improved highway safety. Traffic fatalities are down about 15 percent since 2005. This dramatic turnaround fuels job creation, supports tourism and ensures that Missouri families have the transportation system they need and deserve.

PROTECTING THE SAFETY AND SECURITY OF MISSOURIANS

It is a fundamental duty of government to protect the life and property of its citizens, especially Missouri children. At my recommendation, you passed one of America's strongest versions of Jessica's Law to ensure that dangerous sexual predators spend at least 30 years in prison and are monitored for their entire life if they ever get out. We also created the Cyber Crime Task Forces grant program so that law enforcement can catch predators before they harm a Missouri child. My budget includes another increase for the Task Forces, bringing total funding to 1.5 million dollars.

I also urge you to improve the state's sex offender registry by requiring sex offenders to add their e-mail addresses to their profiles.

Violent sex crimes against children are unspeakably evil. Any criminal that rapes a Missouri child deserves the most serious punishment we can deliver. I urge you to make the rape of a Missouri child punishable by death.

We have taken dramatic steps to protect Missourians from methamphetamine - and they are working. I have already signed landmark legislation making it far more difficult to get the raw materials to make meth. Since our state law went into effect, meth incidents have declined by forty percent. This year, I recommend nearly 1 million dollars for a new system to better alert law enforcement to potential abuses. I also request 1.8 million dollars in supplemental funding to help Missouri sheriffs continue their good work to keep meth off our streets and put meth dealers behind bars.

COMBATING ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION

A just society must rest on the rule of law and respect for the police and courts. Illegal immigration makes a travesty of the rule of law. It undermines wages for Missourians. It imposes huge costs on taxpayers for public services.

Those who favor an open border and welfare benefits for illegal immigrants say that Missouri "doesn't have a problem" with illegal immigration. Tell that to skilled carpenters or electricians who cannot get work because illegals are being exploited and doing the job for a pittance. Tell it to Missouri taxpayers who subsidize services for those who broke the law to come here. Disrespect for the law is always a serious social problem.

As in generations past, Missourians welcome legal immigrants and want to help them assimilate into our society. That is why I renew my endorsement of English as the official language. I support this because I wish to include all in the full promise of the American life. English is the language of opportunity. As legal residents learn it, they open new doors, leading to greater freedom and prosperity.

But while we open our hearts to those here LEGALLY, we must reserve a firm hand for those who break our laws.

Washington, unfortunately, has failed to secure our borders. Open borders and amnesty are unacceptable. Washington's failure means states must do more and Missouri is taking the lead.

For example, I directed the Highway Patrol to verify the immigration status of every person booked into jail. Since my directive, 138 illegal immigrants have found out the hard way that crime does not pay. To build on these gains, we have applied for federal approval that deputizes state law enforcement to enforce federal immigration law.

Working with federal authorities, we helped bust and disqualify a state contractor for using illegal workers. I have a simple rule. If a contractor uses illegal labor, they will not do business with Missouri taxpayers.

I urge you to place my directives in statute and pass a number of important legislative initiatives.

I urge you to create new penalties for aiding an illegal in obtaining a license by fraud; and to specifically prohibit illegals from having a Missouri driver's license.

I ask that you forbid local governments from hampering law enforcement efforts to help enforce immigration law. Missouri should have no "sanctuary cities."

To stop the use of illegal labor and to protect illegal immigrants from exploitation, I support a new law making it a crime to transport any illegal immigrant for exploitive purposes, including illegal labor.

To protect taxpayers, I urge legislation that requires public agencies verify the legal status of applicants before providing welfare benefits.

Missourians know what needs to happen. Turn OFF the magnets that help attract mass illegal immigration.

Finally, I urge you to require stronger employment verification; to punish those who knowingly hire illegals; and to protect from undue penalty those whose failures occur in good faith.

Again: Turn OFF the magnets, end the easy hiring of illegals, and stop undermining American wages.

Missouri is already taking some of the strongest steps in the United States to curb illegal immigration, but we can and should be doing more. Missourians should know that I will do everything I can to combat illegal immigration - to protect their safety, to defend their hard-earned tax dollars, to protect their jobs, and to enforce the rule of law.

CHANGE THAT IS WORKING

When the old way failed the people, Missourians issued their mandate for a new direction.

We took a wrecked state budget and delivered consecutive surpluses.

We took a job climate that was causing entrepreneurs and employers to flee our state and turned it into a climate welcoming new jobs - nearly 90,000 in just three years.

We reduced taxes for Missouri seniors and every Missouri family that spends money on health insurance.

We took a health care system that resulted in poor health for patients and reckless spending for Missouri taxpayers, and replaced it with a better system, one that delivers better care, improves the quality of life for participants, and is sustainable for Missouri taxpayers. Now, for the first time, we will help working families afford their own coverage. And again, I will not rest until every Missourian has access to affordable health care.

We took an education system that all-too-often found itself fighting tooth-and-nail for funding and made it our highest budget priority. We will deliver more than 1.2 billion dollars in new funding, and we will quadruple scholarships to help well more than 36,000 deserving Missouri students.

What we are doing is passing the ultimate Missouri test. It is working. It is working for Missouri families.

Our task is to make what is good, even better. We must aspire for even greater prosperity, opportunity, and freedom. We must never stand still. America is the most dynamic society in human history. We must combine tested and proven values with innovation and the common wisdom of the people, to honor Missouri's motto: that the welfare of the people shall be the supreme law.

May God bless each of you, and may God continue to bless our great and wonderful state.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Shields.

Speaker Jetton resumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Almighty God, by Your gift of wisdom, and our communication and reflection, may we continue to grow in our understanding of the state of our State.

Then, may we begin to do our part in advancing justice for all. Your Holy Word reminds us, "By justice a king gives stability to the land," (Proverbs 29:4). Help us, each and every one of us, to do our part so that this Holy Word may live ever more fully in the "land" that is the State of Missouri.

We thank You, O God, for every good decision and every good event that has helped decrease the violence and killing in Iraq. Protect our armed forces there, and help the leaders of that nation to establish justice for all their people.

We give You honor and glory, Almighty God, forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 94th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Let us pray.

Lord God, we give thanks for the extra day at home and in our home districts, as we honored Dr. Martin Luther King Day. We thank You for the growth throughout our land of justice, equality and freedom, which flowed from his ministry.

May justice, equality and freedom continue to grow through our leadership.

Let us pray for those who have been suffering from the cold, from hunger or lack of housing, because of their poverty, inability to manage, or weakened health. Place people in their lives to help them. Guide us to do our part as legislators.

Let us pray, that the Holy Spirit be allowed into the political process everywhere in our country, so that virtuous and god-fearing people find their places on the ballots for elections at the national level.

Finally, Lord God, give us the grace, strength, and wisdom we need to accomplish well our work this week.

We praise You! For You are God, forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, You are God and earnestly we seek You. We thank You that You hear and answer prayer. How awesome You are.

Though there are issues that often seem to divide us, we stand here in Your presence as one people, with a passionate desire to fulfill the purpose to which we are called. We remain strong and resolute and we keep our priorities straight; God, family, and the business of state. Therefore we look to You, asking of You wisdom and understanding that we may remain focused and on point, not allowing distractions to derail us from fulfilling Your plan.

May we build on past successes, learn from past mistakes and enjoy the remarkable transformation unfolding before us, as we yield to You.

Now unto Him who is able to keep us from stumbling and in acknowledgment of Your presence, we ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ella Jean Skaggs, Cora Elizabeth Skaggs and Levi Matthew Skaggs.

The Journal of the seventh day was approved as printed by the following vote:

NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Sing praise to Him and highly exalt Him forever.
(Daniel 3:49-50, RSV)*

Almighty God, the frost and cold bring us no harm, but stimulate us to be bright and alert for the work of the day. For this we thank You. We pray for those who suffer in the cold.

In view of all that is going on in State government and in our work, guide us by the light of the Holy Spirit. In the same Holy Spirit, help us always to relish what is right, and to rejoice in Your consolation.

To You be glory and honor now and forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Leah Pratt and Benjamin Pratt.

The Journal of the eighth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

TENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 28, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, Your steadfast love never ceases; Your mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning; great is Your faithfulness.

It is impossible to measure Your greatness and the magnitude of Your mercy. Though our plans on this earth are frail and sometimes fall short of its intended purpose, Your plans and purposes never fail. So we, with Your guidance, seek to establish a distinctive quality of life for all our constituents; one with long term positive effects.

As we have received instructions from You and seek to implement them, may Your blessings be upon our efforts throughout this week.

Blessed are You, LORD, who has given us rest according to all that You promised. Thank You for Your abiding presence.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Chris Hillen, Gabriella Martinez, Stacy Buenemann and James Myles.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

ELEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

(On the morning after President Bush's State of the Union Address, this word from the Christian scriptures is timely).

The apostle Paul is inspired to write: "I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions and thanksgivings be offered for all men, for kings and all in high places, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life, godly and respectful in every way". (1 Timothy 2:1-2)

Almighty God, we pray for our President and all our national leaders in high places. We pray that they receive, and rely on, Your gift of right judgment and wisdom, in making the decisions that are developing for the sake of our nation and all its people. And may harmony and justice be advanced between our nation and all other nations, especially those with whom we are involved in warfare or dangerous tension.

Lord God, may the same gifts of right judgment and wisdom be granted to us for the sake of the people we serve in the State of Missouri.

We pray to You, our God forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lily Burns, Delun Shi, Kia Kemp, Lizzy Lannin, Rafael Leija-Elias, Abby Fulcher, Tricia Hill, Caitlin Price, Kia Woods, Janice Sutton, Brandon Parker, Dustin Hayes, Ebony Jones, Alphonso Carillo, Samantha Tran, Irving Gonzales, Tony Ngyuen, Kahalil Harbia, Mariah Smith, Leon Gray, Andre Rush, Breanne Echols, Aaron Collins and JoAnna Hernandez.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

TWELFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Ed Emery.

Fill us, O Lord and Father of us all, we beseech Thee, with Thy gentle Spirit, and dispel all the clouds of misunderstanding and passion. Make an end to the strife of blind fury. Arise, O Christ, Thou Sun of Righteousness, and shine upon us. Alas! While we contend, we only too often forget to strive after holiness which Thou requirest from us all. Guard us against abusing our powers and enable us to employ them with all earnestness for the promotion of holiness.

Make us to leave all past errors to the judgment of the Saviour; and to give a charitable hearing to every man's opinions, thoughts and ideas; with the desire that all might live under the one Christ, in one Commonwealth, one Church, and one Unity.

In part attributed to Zwingli, Swiss theologian, leader of the Reformation in Switzerland and in part to Charles V, Roman Emperor (circa 1530).

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Micah Rucker and Caleb Foster.

The Journal of the eleventh day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

THIRTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

With snow in the forecast, let us pray.

"Bless the Lord, frosts and snows, sing praise to him and highly exalt him forever." (Daniel 3:50).

Lord God, we thank You today for those who work on our highways in the cities and counties of our State. We thank You especially for those who are clearing snow from highways at this hour, making them safe for those who must travel. We easily see and value them as servants of the people.

O God, in the midst of these and all our worries, give us the peace to concentrate on the agenda of today's work. We are servants of You, our God. Keep us aware that we are servants, also, of those who have elected us to lead.

We praise and honor You, our God forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Brackin Kuessner.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

FOURTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

You are God, gracious and merciful, slow to anger and abundant in kindness. We are grateful for Your abiding presence.

Lord, we have, on many occasions, wrestled with our thoughts, our decisions, our actions, seeking always to do what is right in Your sight and in the sight of our constituents.

So we seek wise counsel, understanding that without consultation, plans are frustrated, but with many counselors they succeed; And there is none wiser than You.

May this week be a time of great introspection and projection with the ultimate goal of a more vigorous state.

Yours, O Lord, is the power and the glory, the victory and the majesty, forever.

And it's in the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FIFTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

On this day of voting, called Super Tuesday, let us pray.

Almighty God, we praise You! We thank You for creating humankind in Your image and likeness, and for giving us the ability to "choose the good" (Isaiah 7:15), as one of the highest forms of acting in Your image and likeness.

We pray for the citizens of our state, and of all the Super Tuesday states. Inspire them to concentrate upon "choosing the good" as they vote. In this simple act, may they experience their personal dignity and even the fulfillment of their duty before You, their God.

When the voting is over, give us the humility and wisdom to discern the meaning of the results. In all our work in this House of Representatives, guide us carefully to "choose the good" and together to advance the common good. As we cast our votes on various issues, may we experience our own dignity of being created in Your image and likeness.

We pray to You, who is our God forever and ever. Amen!

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as printed.

The doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Laura Denvir Stith, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri. Chief Justice Stith was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais where she delivered the following message to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

By

Chief Justice Laura Denvir Stith

Introduction

President Kinder, President Pro Tem Gibbons, Speaker Pro Tem Pratt, statewide elected officials, members of the General Assembly, members of the cabinet, my fellow Supreme Court judges, honored guests and fellow citizens:

Thank you for your warm welcome. I am truly honored to be here. When I began my legal career nearly 30 years ago as a Supreme Court law clerk, I had no idea that one day I would have the opportunity to come before this honored assembly, as the state's second female chief justice, to deliver Missouri's 35th State of the Judiciary address.

When I began my career, there were no female appellate or Supreme Court judges in Missouri and very few elsewhere. But now, for the first time in Missouri's history, we have three women on the Supreme Court. I thank Governor Matt Blunt for his appointment of Judge Patricia Breckenridge to the Court.

Courts and judges make a positive impact on Missouri's communities

Like many of you, Judge Breckenridge is a true public servant. Over the past nine years, she has mentored five Kansas City children who, under her guidance, have become thriving teenagers looking forward to a promising future. Such efforts are the norm in the judiciary. Just a few weeks ago, for example, the judges and staff of the Western District appeals court finished a food drive that will feed nearly 400 needy families in the Kansas City area.

I tell you about these activities for two reasons. First, we are proud of the community involvement and personal contributions of our judges. Second, a review of these activities affirms that, just as you legislators are well-known for your civic participation at all levels, so too are the vast majority of our judges. They are in the same civic groups as you; they work to make a difference in their communities, like you; and, like you, judges and court staff make a positive impact on their communities through the performance of their official duties.

Just last month, for example, Jackson County received national honors for its family court probation and aftercare services. This program has reduced the recidivism rate drastically; now only 4 percent of its youth are referred back to the family court within six months.

Across the state, in the city of St. Louis, Judge Jimmie Edwards has reorganized the juvenile court so effectively that most felony offenses are processed within five weeks and misdemeanors within two weeks. This gets juvenile offenders off the streets, out of detention centers and into rehabilitative services sooner. It also has reduced the city's juvenile detention population by about a third, saving precious resources.

Judge Mary Sheffield and the 25th Circuit in south-central Missouri - along with Judge Rick Zerr and the 11th Circuit in St. Charles County - are piloting what we hope will become a statewide model for family courts. This enhanced "unified family court" system assigns a single judge to a particular family, which diminishes the likelihood of fragmented and inconsistent court results and reduces the time families have to spend in court. This new unified family court system will make a real difference in the lives of your constituents.

Drug courts are important for Missourians

Programs like these demonstrate how hard-working court professionals can turn around young lives and keep families together. Drug courts, also, are helping urban and rural communities throughout the state reap similar benefits. Since they were established in Missouri 15 years ago through bipartisan efforts, our drug courts have graduated more than 6,200 individuals. An incredible 90 percent of these never return to our criminal justice system! I thank my colleague, Judge Ray Price, for his instrumental role in the development and oversight of these courts as chairman of Missouri's statewide drug court commission. In fact, the reason he is unable to be with us today is that he is in Washington, D.C., attending a board meeting of the National Association of Drug Court Professionals.

I encourage all of you to attend a local drug court graduation - it's an amazing experience. In Stone County, for example, one graduate went from having no place to live, no relationship with his two sons, no job and spending his time committing crimes and his money on drugs to having a solid marriage, running a masonry business and coaching his son's football team.

His story is echoed in the experiences of many of our drug court graduates. We have a number of recent graduates here today, along with some of our drug court staff and judges, and I invite them to stand and be recognized for their achievements.

These are the types of outcomes that timely and effective court intervention creates all across Missouri. Keeping offenders out of prison allows them to remain in the workforce and their families to stay intact. In fact, our juvenile courts have been able to place 120 children back in their natural homes after a parent graduated from drug court. The success of our drug courts even affects the next generation of Missourians, as more than 325 drug-free babies have been born to female drug court participants! And as I'm sure you are aware, protecting our unborn children from the ravages of drugs saves the state literally tens of thousands of dollars per child and gives every child a chance at a better life.

Alcohol abuse, like drug abuse, can ruin lives. Missouri has had the foresight to establish DWI courts as part of its drug court programs. The Greene County DWI court recently was one of only four such courts nationwide to be honored as a model court for its work in turning around repeat DWI offenders. Of its 143 graduates since 2003, only four have been convicted of subsequent DWIs.

As the Springfield News-Leader recently noted, expanded funding of the proven, cost-effective services offered by such courts will reduce the impact of substance abuse in Missouri. At any given time, our 108 drug courts are working with more than 3,200 offenders - that's approximately equal to the population of two state prisons Missouri has not had to build. This money-saving investment in our drug courts really is an investment in a positive future for Missourians. And all drug court funds go directly to treatment services for your constituents in your communities.

Courts have a positive impact on the state's economy

These are only a few of the many positive effects of Missouri's courts. The next time you visit your local courthouse, I encourage you to meet the skilled court professionals working there. Nearly half of the judiciary's general revenue budget pays for these court clerks, court reporters, juvenile officers and other vital court staff. These are your constituents, and they serve your constituents every day.

Investing in these people makes fiscal sense, too, because Missouri's courts help buoy the state economy. At an annual cost of slightly more than $164 million in general revenue, our courts last year produced a positive economic impact of more than twice that amount - approximately $395 million in damages, offsets, fines, fees and costs. Much of that money went to local schools and county governments and other government funds. In other words, we courts do our share in contributing to the state's bottom line.

We are managing the courts' resources more efficiently

Part of doing our share also means managing court resources as efficiently as possible. Before last year, the courts had only incomplete information to give in response to legislative inquiries whether additional judges were needed and, if so, where. To assist you better, we asked the nation's expert in judicial weighted workloads to study our trial courts. Its results show we need more judges. We are not asking you, however, to fund all the additional judges now - we know this is not the right time.

But the study shows where the need for additional judges is the most urgent, where justice for citizens may be delayed as a result of such shortages - including Greene, Jackson, St. Charles and St. Louis counties, among others. Armed with the facts and figures this study provides, you will be well-equipped to make informed decisions about where it is most critical to add judges throughout the state, as funds become available.

In the meantime, we are taking proactive steps, based on information in the study, to use our judicial resources more wisely. As one example, we are initiating improvements in our judge transfer program. Judges sometimes are transferred into another circuit to help cover for an illness or other temporary absence, but many other transfers help overburdened courts handle their dockets on a routine and continuing basis. For instance, in the 26th Circuit in the Lake of the Ozarks area, three judges suffered lengthy illnesses, and two of them eventually died, leaving that circuit shorthanded and unable to meet the needs of its growing population. To resolve this problem, we transferred in senior judges on a long-term basis, allowing civil trials to proceed and greatly expediting all cases.

Of course, the area soon may need another judge - Presiding Judge Greg Kays was one of two Missouri judges whom President George Bush recently nominated to become a federal district court judge. He is a fine judge and an outstanding individual. In fact, Judge Kays was honored by both the Highway Patrol and the Supreme Court for his selfless service in helping to save the life of his wilderness guide during a 2005 fishing expedition near the Arctic Circle. Judge Kays, will you please stand?

We hope the judicial weighted workload study will help us avoid future crises like the one in the 26th Circuit. Instead of the Chief Justice managing transfers, we are instituting a "judicial partnership program" pairing circuits that need extra judges with other circuits in the region whose judges have time to help. As this new program gets underway, we are focusing on the circuits with the most critical need first and will follow up with additional partnerships over the next year.

We must fix the criminal justice system

But, as newspapers in Springfield and St. Louis noted last month, adding more judges will not end the problems we are seeing in our criminal justice system. Even if we had more judges, we still would need more public defenders and prosecutors because, not enough attorneys are available to try all the pending criminal cases, resulting in lengthy pretrial incarcerations. This is a critical problem in every jurisdiction in the state but most acutely so in our urban areas, where the criminal justice system is on the brink of a shutdown and basic constitutional rights are in jeopardy.

It benefits the public, the victims of crime, witnesses and the entire justice system if these cases are processed in a reasonable time; in fact, the constitution requires it. We are pleased to hear the state's budget analysts predict a surplus will be available this year to meet some of the state's most critical needs. Few could be more critical than in the criminal justice system, where we are on the verge of risking release of some prisoners for failure to give them a speedy trial because there simply is no public defender available to advocate on their behalf. I cannot emphasize enough the urgency of this crisis and ask you to give the utmost consideration to the public defender's budget request.

Missouri cannot afford to let this continue. We thank those of you who have been working on this problem and we urge you to intensify your efforts at solving this critical flaw, one that reaches even beyond the criminal justice system. As shown by the 26th Circuit's experience, backlogs in criminal cases can translate into delays for our civil litigants as well. This has not gone unnoticed by our business community. Business leaders tell us that they have no desire to operate in a state unless it has a fair and impartial court system that moves cases efficiently. Businesses are in litigation every day, all over the country, and the prompt resolution of their cases helps our economy to remain strong and to move forward.

Improving court technology enhances public safety and public access

Ensuring access to Missouri's courts extends beyond the courthouse walls, so we have strived to improve our online legal resources also. I am proud that the Supreme Court now offers streaming audio of its oral arguments so all members of the public can listen to them as they occur.

I also am pleased to announce that our electronic case management system will be complete statewide with the addition of Greene County this spring. Why does this matter? Well, by integrating technology into our court services, we are better able to meet your constituents' expectations about making all of government operate more efficiently. Because of its court technology, Missouri is the first state in the nation that allows the courts, the schools and state executive branch agencies that serve youth, to share juvenile case information through a secure, statewide system. And Missouri's court technology ensures that law enforcement agencies receive orders of protection within a few minutes of their entry and that the Highway Patrol more quickly can receive thousands of convictions and mental incapacity determinations.

We also are proud of our nationally recognized Case.net system, which lets you and your constituents access statewide adult case information around the clock through our Web site. Case.net is purely a Missouri product: It was designed by Missouri court technology staff, with input from courts and citizens throughout the state, and it is something of which we all should be proud.

The technology you have helped us build now positions us to take the next step for Missouri's citizens. With your support for our budget request to pilot electronic filing, we can begin providing Missourians electronic access to their court documents, increasing transparency of the courts for less money. E-filing also will be more efficient. It will enable litigants and lawyers to obtain court files and specific documents from their homes or offices any time of day. And it will enhance public safety by giving judges, court personnel and law enforcement officers round-the-clock access to case information. This will be an important step forward for everyone.

The advances we've made would not have been possible without your investments in court technology, because modern computer systems provide the foundation for information sharing and access. We thank you, and we ask for your continued support to enable Missouri's courts to provide the kind of service our citizens expect in the 21st century.

The nonpartisan plan for selecting judges on merit continues to work

I'll spend the remainder of my comments addressing something many of you have asked me about - the nonpartisan court plan. In fact, your enhanced interest gave me the privilege of being the first chief justice in recent memory to be invited to speak with a legislative committee even before the State of the Judiciary. I was thankful for that opportunity.

As I noted then, I believe that in the nearly three-quarters of a century since its adoption, Missouri's nonpartisan merit-selection court plan has worked well in attracting high-quality judges in the least political way and in ultimately giving Missouri's voters - not lawyers, not the Governor, not the Legislature and not the Supreme Court - the final say. This renowned method of judicial selection - what some have called "Missouri's gift to the art of governance" - should be treasured.

Most Missourians agree. In a poll of 600 Missourians recently conducted by Public Opinion Strategies, the majority opposed replacing the plan, either with partisan judicial elections - in which judges raise literally millions, if not tens of millions, of dollars to keep their office - or with a federal-type system in which judges are hand-picked by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

The process the Appellate Judicial Commission followed in filling Judge Ronnie White's vacancy on the Supreme Court was the same process that the same seven commissioners followed to fill the five additional appellate vacancies this year. This process became part of Missouri's structure of government in 1940, when a group of mostly Republican legislators and civic leaders, including my colleague Steve Limbaugh's grandfather, "the original" Rush Limbaugh, successfully led a citizen initiative to end partisan control of the judiciary. The only significant change made since then came in 1978, when citizens - to minimize further the influence of partisan politics in our judicial system - eliminated the Governor's ability to force the nonpartisan commissions to nominate additional panels for the same vacancy.

In the end, the process has worked essentially the same way for all those years. It is a neutral, even-handed process that blends the best features of merit screening, executive branch appointment and voter participation in judicial selection while preserving the public's confidence in fair and impartial courts. And it is the process that led to the selection of fine jurists such as John Holstein, Ann Covington, Charles Blackmar, Andrew Jackson Higgins, Joseph Simeone, J.P. Morgan and my own mentors - Robert Seiler and Elwood Thomas - to name but a few.

We are further opening the nonpartisan selection process

Pride in these and other fine judges appointed under the Missouri plan no doubt has played an important role in the rejection of prior attempts to dismantle the plan or allow it to become subject to expensive fundraising efforts, special interest influence or shifting political winds. As Missourians always have recognized, this is not a Democratic or Republican issue - it is a matter of good government.

But does that mean I think that we have implemented the plan perfectly? As I told the Senate Rules Committee last fall, actually, I don't - and those of us on the Supreme Court are working to improve its operation in two significant ways.

The first involves giving even more information to the media and the public. The nonpartisan plan process already makes more information public than what is shared in any other area of state government. Under the plan, the public learns who the three finalists are for positions on Missouri's nonpartisan courts so they can offer comment to the Governor. For most other appointed positions in government, including the directors of executive branch agencies and the legislative leadership, all the public learns is the name of the person finally selected.

That said, the Supreme Court has listened to the public and the media and plans to open up the process even more. Beginning later this month, the Court will require commissions to announce the time, date and location of their meetings and to provide demographic information about the applicant pool prior to those meetings. Once the three finalists are determined, the commissions will be required to make public the three nominees' applications - with private information redacted, of course.

We plan to enhance public involvement in the process of rating and retaining nonpartisan judges

The second area designated for improvement is the retention election process. The Supreme Court is working to make sure that Missouri's citizens have more, and better, access to information about the performance of their judges when they exercise their right to have the final say on whether judges should remain in office.

In 2006, The Missouri Bar spent more than $100,000 to conduct evaluations of nonpartisan judges and distribute the results to the public - by holding news conferences, distributing evaluations to the media, putting the results online, sending them to organizations such as the chambers of commerce - the Bar even made them available in libraries and supermarkets. We commend the Bar for its many efforts, but we can do even more for Missourians.

We want citizens to have ready information about the performance of their judges so they can make fully informed decisions when they exercise their right to vote. Ideally, Missouri would follow Arizona's lead and appropriate a million dollars each election cycle so the Secretary of State can print and mail to each voter in the state a pamphlet summarizing and evaluating the qualifications and performance of each judge up for retention.

But we are not standing still just because full funding for these efforts is not available. As a member of the National Conference of Chief Justices, I am helping to draft a resolution - which we will vote on this summer - to support federal legislation allowing this type of voter guide to be distributed postage-free. If successful, this could reduce the cost of the pamphlets by up to one-third. I ask each of you to voice your support for this type of legislative proposal to your counterparts in Congress. Together, we can make a difference.

The Supreme Court also is requiring the creation of judicial performance committees to use objective standards to conduct in-depth evaluations of nonpartisan judges seeking retention. These performance committees, composed of an equal number of lay persons and lawyers, will release their evaluation summaries and will recommend whether a nonpartisan judge should be retained. The bottom line recommendations, and directions to a Web site with detailed evaluation information, will be made available in a concise voter information pamphlet - the type of pamphlet we hope one day to be able to send to all the voters.

Each of these proposals is feasible. None require any state funding or any new legislation; all are within the scope of the Supreme Court's constitutional authority over the judiciary. We look forward to the public's feedback about the improved retention evaluation system and to any other creative suggestions they may have for additional enhancements.

Conclusion

In conclusion, all the things I have talked about this morning merely help us accomplish our mission of providing fair and impartial justice in the nearly 1 million cases that come before our state's courts each year. We take every one of these cases very seriously, because we know that each one is the most important case in the world to the people involved.

While we judges often are struck by the weight of this responsibility, and while we may agonize about doing what the facts and the law of a particular case require, this responsibility is part of what we cherish most about our role in the court system. In the end, we are honored to be public servants, just like you.

As most of you know, one of Missouri's fine nonpartisan judges - my colleague Steve Limbaugh - recently was nominated by President Bush to become a federal district court judge. Steve is the epitome of a public servant. His life in public service - first as a prosecutor in Cape Girardeau County, then as a circuit judge there and, since 1992, as a Supreme Court judge - has been shaped by the examples of civility, courtesy and professionalism that Steve's grandfather and father set for him. He has been a real mentor for me on the Court, and I will greatly miss his sharp intellect, his insight, his wit and his camaraderie.

But I know Judge Limbaugh is eager to bring that same wisdom to the federal bench. When he does so, he will become the latest in a long series of Missouri nonpartisan plan judges who had such merit that they were nominated to join the federal bench, including Duane Benton and Theodore McMillian on the 8th Circuit appeals court as well as Henry Autrey, Gary Fenner, Fernando Gaitan, George Gunn, Jean Hamilton and Elmo Hunter on the district court bench, to name but a few.

We know Judge Limbaugh and Judge Kays, like their predecessors, will make Missouri proud. Thank you.

And thanks to all of you.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

SIXTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

You alone are the Lord; You have made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth and everything on it, the seas and all that is in them, and You preserve them all.

As we look to You, we remember the privilege we have of being able to live our lives in the enjoyment of divine favor. We remember the mercy You have shown us in providing for our temporal needs and blessing our willingness to serve.

You have shown us how to govern and how to serve and they have now become precious commodities. Grant us the ability to do both well.

Now may these words of ours, in which we make prayer before You, be near You day and night, that You may maintain the cause of Your servants and the cause of Your people as each day may require.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fifteenth day was approved as printed.

Representative Schoeller assumed the Chair.

STATE OF TRANSPORTATION ADDRESS

Pete Rahn

Lt. Governor, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Members of the 94th General Assembly, Members of the Missouri Highways and Transportation Commission and Citizens of Missouri:

The road to credibility is a long one. The road to discredit is not. Credibility takes a long time to build, but it can be torn down in a matter of seconds.

The road to credibility is paved with openness and honesty; dedication and hard work; success and commitments met; an innovative spirit and efficient approaches. This journey takes years to travel.

Discredit can come from one misstep. One poor decision. One catastrophic event handled poorly. It is less a journey than a trap door that sends an organization's reputation plummeting.

In 2003, many Missourians including the General Assembly believed that the trap door had fallen out from under the Missouri Department of Transportation. That is when this speech was created to increase our accountability.

A law requiring the director of MoDOT to report annually from this dais mandated a level of scrutiny, a level of accountability never before applied to a state agency. We have taken this responsibility seriously and have endeavored to present an enlightening report each year.

The first address was given in 2004 with a promise that a new day had dawned at MoDOT. In 2005, I reiterated that pledge and further promised that we would be a model for what today's state government should be - efficient, streamlined, forward thinking, results-driven and customer-oriented.

We have worked hard to become that kind of agency. Our focus has been on delivering results. Rebuilding trust. Demonstrating to you that we are an organization worthy of your support. Each year, during this address, I have reported to you regarding our progress toward these goals. Our progress along the road to credibility.

The State of Transportation Address was created five years ago with a five-year sunset clause. Dramatic improvement was expected or the General Assembly could extend this accountability measure beyond five years. With that in mind, I am proud to say this is the fifth and final State of Transportation Address!

I believe the elimination of this speech sends a clear signal that MoDOT has regained its footing and your trust. Five years ago we faced uncertainty, but today there is no doubt - we've come a long way in a short time. A long way down the road to credibility.

Today, I am happy to report that we have reached our destination. Perceptions have changed and it is now a reality - the state of transportation in Missouri is strong and the state of your Department of Transportation is even stronger. We have regained our credibility and then some. The proof is in the results. Just look how far we have come.

The result that motivates us everyday is the safety of our citizens. We have gone from a state where an obscene number of our family, friends and neighbors were dying on our roadways to a state that leads the nation in reducing traffic fatalities.

In 2006, there were 868 fewer deaths on America's roadways. Missouri accounted for 161 of those lives saved. That means that a state that makes up less than 2 percent of the nation's population accounted for 19 percent of lives saved on America's roads. We led the nation in lives saved. That is proof of how far we've come.

In 2007, the great news continued. Together with the Highway Patrol, the Missouri Coalition for Roadway Safety and highway safety advocates throughout our state, we experienced 118 fewer deaths on our roads.

That reduction in fatalities put us below 1,000 for the first time since 1993, which met the goal of the Coalition for Roadway Safety a full year early.

Our work, however, is not finished. We have come a long way in reducing deaths on our roadways. We could have saved even more lives with a primary safety belt law - 90 more lives this last year alone.

Additionally, while highway fatalities are down overall, deaths among motorcyclists are up. We must have a renewed focus on motorcycle safety and I urge you to never add to these deaths by repealing Missouri's helmet law.

We must also ensure that law enforcement officers have the tools they need to help keep our roads safe. I commend Senator Ryan McKenna for proposing a dedicated revenue stream for the Highway Patrol that will mean more funding for law enforcement and more lives saved on Missouri's roadways.

We have come a long way decreasing fatalities and part of the reason is that Missouri's roads have gotten smoother and safer - soon.

In 2006, we delivered 2,200 miles of smoother, safer roads a full year ahead of schedule. We are now building on that success with our Better Roads, Brighter Future initiative which will result in 5,600 miles of major roads with smooth pavement; brighter, wider striping; larger signs; rumble stripes; and, in most cases, a minimum four-foot paved shoulder all by 2012.

With just one year of Better Roads, Brighter Future completed, 78 percent of our major roads are now in good condition as compared to 44 percent just five years ago. That is progress that benefits all of us. That is an example of how far we've come.

The vast improvement of our highway system has gained national attention. The respected Reason Foundation released a report in 2007 analyzing the overall performance of every state's highway system.

Missouri climbed from 39th to 17th between 2000 and 2005 including an eleven-spot jump from 2004 to 2005 - the second biggest improvement in the country. And that was prior to the full effects of the Smooth Roads Initiative or any of the positive improvements through Better Roads, Brighter Future, which will undoubtedly move us up the rankings in future years.

The Reason Report also cited MoDOT's low administrative costs, making up only two percent of our budget, as playing a key role in the performance of our highway system. Missouri was listed as having the third lowest administrative costs per mile of any state in the nation. Our performance is being recognized nationally and is improving everyday. That is proof of how far we've come!

We are delivering significant results for the people of Missouri and we are saving them significant money while we do it.

Construction contracts awarded in Fiscal Year 2007 came in 7.4 percent under budget. That was a 90 million dollar savings - 90 million dollars more for road and bridge improvements. For Fiscal Year 2008, so far we are at 114 million dollars or 14 percent under budget.

Additionally, all projects in our five-year plan that were sped up due to Amendment 3 funding have been awarded to a contractor. With 100 percent of these projects under contract, we came in at 4 percent under budget. That is even more savings for even more highway improvements. That is an example of how far we've come!

But, construction is not the only place we are saving money. We have reduced workers compensation costs 7 million dollars. That savings comes from an unwavering emphasis on worker safety that delivered a 69 percent reduction in lost work days, which also means MoDOT employees are more productive and are accomplishing more for Missourians.

By reducing costs. By spending taxpayer money wisely. We are getting the best value for every dollar spent and we are able to think big when it comes to delivering transportation "wow" to the people of Missouri.

"Wow" was not the word that passed the lips of people in St. Louis when they found out we would be closing separate five-mile sections of Interstate 64 each of the next two years. I can't repeat many of those words here.

We closed the first five miles in the heart of the St. Louis region on January 2. Prior to the closure, headlines screamed predictions like "Apocalypse Now!" and "Traffic Nightmare!"

We, along with Gateway Contractors, St. Louis County, the city of St. Louis and the Highway Patrol, did everything in our power to keep those prophecies from becoming realities. We also provided a 3 million dollar incentive to Metro to increase ridership.

The people listened and, to their credit, the headlines immediately after the closure read "So far, so good," "Region's traffic nightmare a no-show," "Preparation Pays Off," and "Closure Off to Smooth Start." Commuters have adjusted their habits and have helped the region avoid its predicted traffic nightmare.

I particularly appreciated a letter from Representative Scott Muschany in which he states, "The smoothness of the entire project to date is a great testimony to your department's planning and regional leadership. The old MoDOT could not have pulled this off five years ago."

To further demonstrate the success of the project, the presidents' of Civic Progress, the Regional Chamber and Growth Association and the Regional Business Council jointly said in a letter "We look forward to more projects designed and managed by MoDOT, working together in making the region a more attractive place for business and continually improving economic opportunity and prosperity."

In 2010, St. Louis will enjoy ten miles of new, smooth pavement; 30 new, safer and more attractive bridges; and a new, safer high-speed interchange at Interstate 170. All of these improvements will be completed in three years instead of seven. That is real progress in our largest Metropolitan area. That is the biggest highway project in Missouri history. That shows how far we've come!

While the predicted crisis on I-64 didn't happen, we did have to respond to a real crisis right here in Jefferson City on November 27, 2007. We knew we had to act fast when an 8,000-gallon fuel tanker overturned and exploded on Highway 54 causing extensive damage to the Jefferson Street Overpass.

Within days, a complete replacement of the overpass was under contract. Working through snow, ice and extremely cold weather MoDOT employees and contractor Pace Construction tore down, rebuilt and reopened the overpass in just 37 days. Normally, this project would have taken months under the best conditions. That shows what we can do. That shows how far we've come!

The I-64 and Jefferson Street Overpass Teams are here today. Lesley Hoffarth and Tom Blair of MoDOT, Charlie Dooley and Garry Earls from St. Louis County, Captain Ron Johnson of the Highway Patrol and Ray Friem from Metro, as well as the Jefferson Street Overpass Team of Christopher Graham, Bryan Hartnagel and Jay Bestgen are in the gallery. I ask that they all stand and be recognized.

Bridges were certainly a major concern for motorists in 2007. The collapse of the Interstate 35 Bridge in Minneapolis directed renewed attention to the need for reliable transportation infrastructure and, particularly, bridge safety. We acted immediately to inspect all bridges similar in design to the one in Minnesota and to ensure their safety.

It is imperative, though, that we take major action to address a vast number of bridges quickly. With over 10,000 bridges, Missouri has the seventh most of any state in the union. We face a crisis as more than 1,000 are structurally in serious condition. Many are one step away from being closed.

That is why we initiated our Safe and Sound Bridge Improvement Program. Eight hundred two of our worst bridges will be repaired or replaced by 2013. I thank Governor Blunt for calling a special session and the General Assembly for passing legislation to make sure this vital initiative moves forward.

In the aftermath of the Minneapolis bridge collapse, the nation was looking for answers and many eyes turned to the Show-Me State. Headlines nationally and internationally pointed to Missouri's innovative Safe and Sound Bridge initiative as a possible model for the entire nation.

Members of Congress took note and are watching our progress closely to see how it can be applied elsewhere. Even the Secretary of the United States Department of Transportation Mary Peters said that the Safe and Sound Bridge Program is "...attracting national attention for its especially creative approach..."

As of today, we are in the final stages of negotiations with Missouri Bridge Partners trying to bring this program to fruition.

While Safe and Sound will fix more than 800 bridges, it will not address our large river bridges that span more than 1,000 feet. I am pleased, however, that the Paseo Bridge in Kansas City will soon be replaced with a landmark structure. In November 2007, we awarded a contract that will lessen traffic congestion and increase mobility while adding an iconic bridge to the city's skyline.

The I-29 and I-35 connector project, known as kcICON, will result in safer, more convenient travel and a beautiful bridge that will be a Kansas City landmark for many decades to come.

This was also a landmark project because of the level of community involvement in its design. A 12-member citizen's advisory panel spent untold hours volunteering their time to choose a bridge that would add a dramatic architectural marvel to the city's skyline. They were given unprecedented access and input and their decision was final. That is a first in our nation. The result will be a bridge of which all Missourians can be proud. A bridge that shows how far we've come!

I am also pleased to report that Missouri and Illinois are in almost daily contact regarding another critical bridge project, the new Mississippi River Bridge in St. Louis. I remain hopeful that an agreement can be reached soon to move this project forward.

Unfortunately, there are many more major river bridges in Missouri that need to be replaced or repaired. In fact, we have more than any other state and more than 25 states combined.

To replace all the large bridges that need to be fixed would cost 7 billion dollars. To make sure they are at least in satisfactory condition would cost 300 to 500 million dollars over ten years. Either way we don't have the money.

Which brings me to another important topic. What would a State of Transportation Address be without a discussion of funding? It wouldn't be this one.

The perfect storm continues to brew on the transportation horizon. Three major factors are stirring up gale force winds that are coming on like a freight train set to arrive in 2010.

At that time, Amendment 3 bond money will be used up. We have been able to make great improvements to our highways and bridges quickly because of voter mandated bonding, but the proceeds dry up and future Amendment 3 revenues will go to repay the bonds.

On the federal front, money for highways is set to plummet unless Congress takes bold steps to prevent the tumble. In 2010, we will likely go from a 43 billion dollar federal highway program to a 25 billion dollar one - a 40 percent drop.

While we produce projects of great value through radical cost controls and budget management, the fact is our dollars are buying fewer projects overall because of rising costs for the materials that go into our roads and bridges.

For example, since 1997 state revenue for roads and bridges has grown 36 percent. At the same time, asphalt prices rose 97 percent - almost three times as much. Concrete has risen 48 percent. Steel has increased 57 percent. And, fuel to mow right of ways and move dirt has increased an incredible 204 percent.

In 2010, these factors converge and the bottom drops out of Missouri's transportation funding. We go from a 1.2 billion dollar construction program in 2005 to a 569 million dollar one. From the largest highway-building program in Missouri history to one where we will struggle to maintain roads. We will go from an improving highway system to one that is deteriorating.

And while I would love to stand here and expound on all the great achievements we have had making our other modes of transportation better, funding for those vital services has never been adequate. It is showing.

Ridership on Amtrak is growing in every state - except Missouri. Infrequent trips. Consistent delays of two hours or more. Passengers having to ride buses. It is little wonder Missourians are not flocking to Amtrak.

We have a plan to address Amtrak. It starts with allocating an additional 10 million dollars in funding to add tracks and install electronic on time messaging at stations across the state. I urge your support for this package. We must keep passenger rail viable in Missouri.

At the same time, I commend Governor Blunt for proposing a 4 million dollar increase in funding for ports. Missouri is blessed with an abundance of waterways. It is imperative we invest more in this underused freight movement and transportation mode. We must see similar investment in aviation, public transit and bike and pedestrian facilities.

I am very concerned that the investments made in transportation by our grandparents that have given us unprecedented mobility and prosperity are not being made by our generation. Our children and grandchildren will not enjoy the same economic advantages and quality of life because of our refusal to pass along a comparable legacy.

Clearly, our transportation needs are great. The people of Missouri have identified 37 billion dollars in transportation priorities over the next twenty years. We project only 19 billion dollars in funding. That means an 18 billion dollar gap, not including inflation, between our needs and our ability to meet them. While the public has filed mignon expectations, MoDOT has filed o' fish funding.

I am encouraged that the discussion of transportation funding is ongoing and vibrant. More and more policy makers and key public opinion leaders are expressing concern about our looming funding crisis. They are exploring options for keeping us from going over the cliff.

Senator Bill Stouffer and Representative Neal St. Onge deserve credit for putting forward proposals that would dramatically increase funding for transportation. They are also leading efforts to educate the public about this dire situation.

Other innovative proposals have been put forth such as Senator John Loudon's legislation to dedicate a portion of the growth in general revenue to transportation. Meanwhile, Senator Matt Bartle continues to promote tolls as another tool to pay for needed highway improvements. I commend their leadership.

The discussion of funding must also include public private partnerships. Private sector investment in public sector improvements is a fact of life in today's global economy. I appreciate that Representative Charlie Schlottach has recognized that fact and is seeking to make public private partnerships a more readily available option for funding vital transportation projects.

The needs that directly impact our state's economic competitiveness are not going away. Our two busiest interstates, I-70 and I-44, are overcrowded and that congestion is growing everyday. They also have been stretched beyond their limits. The 7 billion dollars necessary to completely rebuild and expand them - with dedicated truck lanes to separate 18-wheelers from family sedans - is a monetary illusion as we stand today.

What isn't an illusion is that climate change is an issue we must address. Discussions about transportation from here on out will include greater emphasis on environmentally sensitive approaches and solutions.

MoDOT is doing its part to be a greener organization and to protect the environment. We are using recycled roof shingles, tires and other materials in our pavement. In 2007, MoDOT used more than 3 million tons of asphalt containing recycled material on 1,020 miles of highway. Our efforts earned us the State Recycling Award last year.

At the same time, our entire vehicle fleet uses E-85 ethanol fuel and we use more biodiesel than all other state agencies combined. Plus, we are the first government agency in the nation to use hybrid bucket trucks. We are dedicated to being good stewards of the environment and we know that projects like the reconstruction of I-70 and I-44 must have a significant green focus.

There is no question environmental issues will play a large role in the reconstruction of these two interstates. There is, however, a question about how we will reconstruct them and the answer is more funding.

But, why should you trust us with more money? Because we have come a long way in just five years and we have shown you the results.

During my first address to the General Assembly, I made a lot of bold statements about how MoDOT would improve dramatically and as a result so would Missouri's transportation system.

I also said that I understood this is the Show-Me State and that we would have to show you the results. At that point, Speaker Rod Jetton started clapping verifying that we would indeed have to show him.

I would like to read you a quote from last December. "I gave MoDOT a hard time when it didn't perform well, and I feel I should brag on MoDOT now that it has things fixed. I am proud of MoDOT and the job it is doing. Seven years ago I never thought I would be able to say that. I can tell you it's great for Missouri. It's great for our economy. And, most importantly, it's great for our families."

I think you know where I'm going with this. The person who said that is Speaker Rod Jetton. We showed the Speaker results and we are showing all Missourians results. That shows how far we've come!

The Show-Me state is seeing results. We have installed median guard cables on I-70, I-44 and other interstates virtually eliminating cross over fatalities. We have expanded customer service to where you can reach a live person at MoDOT 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. We have reduced roadway fatalities by 23 percent in two years. We have gone from the third worst highway system in the country to an estimated ninth best.

We have come in under budget on 5.7 billion dollars in highway construction since 2003. And, we have saved 500 million dollars through Practical Design, which delivers highway improvements without unnecessary frills.

Secretary of Transportation Mary Peters has said that "The Show-Me State is showing America how to deliver highway projects on budget and on schedule, and even ahead of schedule."

We are showing the nation and we are showing Missourians how far we've come. Customer satisfaction in MoDOT has climbed dramatically since 1999. Seventy-nine percent of Missourians say they think MoDOT is credible and worthy of their trust. That shows how far we've come!

We have come a long way in a short time. We are saving lives. We are making highways smoother. We are saving taxpayers' money. We are involving and listening to citizens. We have regained the trust of the people of this state.

Our remarkable turnaround has been noticed nationally and in our state. In November of last year, MoDOT won the prestigious Missouri Quality Award. We went through a rigorous review and emerged with an award that recognizes innovation, leadership, customer service, efficiency and that confirms we are a high performing organization on par with past winners like Boeing, Anheuser-Busch and Sprint. Winning the Missouri Quality Award demonstrates how far we've come!

We have come a long way, but we know success is not a destination - it is a journey. And, the only way we succeed is together. For MoDOT's part, we remain committed to our mission of "Providing a world-class transportation experience that delights our customers and promotes a prosperous Missouri."

I bring this final address to a close, however, with a statement I made in 2005. We have shown you amazing progress. But, you ain't seen nothin' yet!

Thank you and may God bless your travels.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

SEVENTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Almighty God, You give "wisdom to the wise and knowledge to those who understand". (Daniel 2:21) "In my inmost being you teach me wisdom". (Psalms 51:8)

Yes, Lord, bless us with the gift of wisdom as we move toward the weekend, and bless us with time to reflect, to reflect upon the implications for our work of the continuing presidential race, of the message of the state of the judiciary, and of other information presented to us. Give us the ability to discern the truths revealed, to see clearly the most important truths and the influence they should have upon our work today in the coming weeks.

We pray to You, Almighty God and Father of humankind. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixteenth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

EIGHTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Sovereign Lord, You have made the heavens and the earth by Your great power and outstretched arm. Nothing is too hard for You. Great are Your purposes and mighty are Your deeds. Your eyes are open to all the ways of men; You reward everyone according to their conduct and deeds.

As we begin this week, help us in our quest: not to be eloquent, but effective; not profound, but efficient; not masterful, but a true servant.

As we seek to implement our plans, may it be in concert with Your counsel and Your purposes.

Blessed are You, Lord God, for You have given us rest according to all Your promises. We appreciate Your kindness, goodness and grace.

And it's in the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventeenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

NINETEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

(Today is Abraham Lincoln's birthday. One of his prayers will be our prayer this morning.)

God bless our native land;
Firm may she ever stand
Through storm and night;
When the wild tempests rave,
O Ruler of wind and wave,
Thou Who art strong to save,
Be Thou her might!

For her prayer shall be,
Our father's God, to Thee,
On Whom we wait;
Be her walls holiness -
Her rulers righteousness,
In all her homes be peace,
God save the State!

Not for this land alone,
But be God's mercies shown
From shore to shore
And may the nations see
That men should brothers be,
And form one family
The wide-world o'er.

(Amen)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, You are a God of knowledge and by Your actions are weighed. For all the earth is Yours and You have set the world in order. No one will succeed by strength alone. It is You who give authority to legislate; You increase the strength of Your people.

As we begin this day, may our minds soar far beyond our own personal pursuits and aspirations and reach out to the larger issues at hand.

So as we stand here in this great house of government, we are determined to walk in Your counsel and meditate on Your wisdom throughout this day and the remainder of this week.

Now may You, Lord God, who by Your love and grace give us eternal encouragement and good hope, encourage our hearts and strengthen us in every good deed and word.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Representative Richard assumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, You are mighty and yet You despise no one nor regard anything as trivial; You are mighty and firm in Your purpose.

We recognize that there is no authority except from You and the authorities that exist have definite responsibilities concerning this state and its overall state of health. So our earnest expectation is to establish law that does not violate conscience, but help to establish the highest well-being of the general public.

Thank You for meeting our impatience with patience and consideration. We understand that good legislation is never easy, nor a pathway to uninterrupted success, but, with Your help, they can be completed within the established timetables.

Now may You, God of hope, fill us with the joy of believing. Fill us with Your peace, so that we may brim over with hope!

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kaitlyn Babcock, Caitlyn Kerley, Austin Nobles, Clark Ledford, Lindsay Treece, Tyler Davis, John Miller, Alan Dockery and Tyler Mutch.

The Journal of the twenty-first day was approved as printed by the following vote:

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2008

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert Kurwicky, St. Joseph Cathedral, Jefferson City, Missouri.

Almighty and loving God, we ask for Your presence in this Chamber today, as we discern those matters which will bring light, peace and joy to the people that we serve. Let us be united in the common good and not distracted by those things which divide us.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

O Lord God Almighty, who is like You? You are mighty, O Lord, and Your faithfulness surrounds You.

As we begin this day, grant us the grace to be ready and willing to work with one another towards a common goal. Grant us controlled tempers, civil tongues and a rewarding work week.

As You are not indifferent to our plea for help, may we not be indifferent to the plea for help from those we serve. As You have been a source of comfort for us, may we be a source of comfort for others. As You have revealed to us truth, may we be a source of truth for all who inquire.

Now may Your grace rest and abide with us throughout this day and the remainder of the week.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kayla Ervin, Kristen Ervin and Kasey Ervin.

The Journal of the twenty-third day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Let us pray for a little child, Kate Lipke, daughter of Representative Scott Lipke of Perry County; the child will have her second heart surgery tomorrow.

Almighty God, Father of all, we pray for this little child. Guide the doctors and nurses who care for her. We pray that Your healing touch provide whatever medical science is unable to provide for the complete healing of this child.

Lord God, we pray for all who suffer from illness or disease, and for those who suffer in this difficult weather.

Today, may we be especially aware of all who suffer. May Your Holy Spirit help us to see the implications of the people's suffering for our work as their Representatives.

May Your Holy Spirit be with us in all our work today and be our protection, and the protection of all who must travel later today.

Praise and glory to You, Almighty God, forever! Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: John "Jack" Shelton and Anne Shelton.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby endorse the "Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children's Bill of Rights" as follows:

(1) Children who are deaf or hard of hearing are entitled to appropriate screening and assessment of hearing capabilities, communication, and language needs at the earliest possible age and to the continuation of screening services throughout the educational experience;

(2) Children who are deaf or hard of hearing are entitled to early intervention to provide for acquisition of solid language bases developed at the earliest possible age;

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Sovereign God, You are unchangeable and inexhaustible, great and mighty, faithful and true. By You we enjoy a place of liberty, comfort, safety and freedom. For this we are most grateful.

Lord God, we seek to set an example first by invoking Your blessing over this great assembly and then by lending ourselves and all at our disposal to be used of You for the betterment of this state and it's people.

Lord God, may You meet our, almost certain, complaints with patience, our frustrations with peace, and our accomplishments with pleasure. But, in spite of it all, we remain thankful.

Now, Lord God, please, if we have found grace in Your sight, guide us clearly along the path You want us to travel, this week, so that we may understand Your plan and live satisfactorily before You.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Alana Mary Bernskoetter and Isaac Laseter.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt assumed the Chair.

The Journal of the twenty-fifth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

"All you winds bless the Lord; praise and exalt him above all forever."
(Daniel 3:65)

Almighty God, we meet here as the representatives of the people of our State. As we serve them, we ask for Your guidance. Help us to truly represent them and not simply ourselves. May the true needs of the people and the common good of all be our concern.

May the wind of Your Holy Spirit visit us and grant us the light of true wisdom, that we may discern Your will in the important matters before us, and allow it to become our will. Then, O Lord, we will be able to serve the people so faithfully that we are in truth serving You.

We praise you, Almighty God forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Autumn Wilson, Donald Wilson, Elijah Wilson, Stephen Wilson, Ezra Wilson, Livia Wilson, Jonah Wilson, Phillip Wilson, Kendar Perrine, Dalton Williams, Nick Puleo, Marie Clark and Gabrielle Pirrie.

The Journal of the twenty-sixth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 94th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

---

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God Almighty, You are our shelter, our defense, a guard who surrounds us; our glory, the one who holds our head high.

As each day is unpredictable and each moment brings another challenge, You are the stability of our day. So we remind ourselves of Your abiding presence.

As we move into this day, help us to serve without pretense; detesting what is false, clinging to what is true. May we willingly confer with one another, in honor giving preference to one another. May we serve with humility and not be wise in our own opinion.

Now Lord God, strengthen and make us what we ought to be and equip us with everything good that we may carry out Your will for this day; while You work in us and accomplish that which is pleasing in Your sight.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sara Schueller, Konner Settles, Makayla Johnson, Jacob Pickett, Shayna Stuckey, Ally Dedmon, Whitney Smith and Britney Anderson.

The Journal of the twenty-seventh day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Almighty God, we praise and thank You for all the talents and abilities with which You have endowed us in our human nature. You have given us the ability to discern what is true and right and just.

And You teach us: "To do what is right and just is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice," (Proverbs 21:3).

Give us the ability to discern what is right and just and true as we listen to testimony, study the bills and proposals before us, and discuss and debate the issues in this assembly and in committees.

Then Lord, give us the courage to do what is right and just, that our work may be acceptable to You.

To You be glory and honor, now and forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lana Ali Sater and Tkhu "Lina" Fi.

The Journal of the twenty-eighth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-FIRST DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 3, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, by Your Word the heavens were created. You breathed the Word and all the stars were born. May we all, this day, stand in awe of You. May we put our hope in You. You are our help and our shield.

We begin this session by offering a prayer of thanksgiving for granting us safe travel once again. We come seeking the wisdom that can only come from You. We come to receive counsel that we may organize our days properly.

We thank You, Lord God, for the constancy of Your presence, therefore we do fear the tasks before us. We are not discouraged, for You guide us with deep and clear knowledge of Your will. When the long days become longer still, You strengthen us and hold us up by Your power and steadfastness.

Now unto You, who is able to keep us from falling, to You be all glory and honor and praise.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

"Thus says the Lord:
See, upon the palm of my hands,
I have written your name..."
(Isaiah 49:16)

Lord, You know the name of every person and You care equally for every person on earth. Give us the ability to live in Your image and likeness by caring equally for every person whom we have been elected to serve. Help all in this body to think this way. Then, as we work together we will be working for the common good.

As through the prophets You show Your special concern for the poor, may we show special concern for the poor. As we imitate You in our work, O Lord, our work becomes godly. Today, may our work be godly, and may we be godly.

To You be glory and honor, now and forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lucas Sean Wilson, Eddie Floyd, Ross Northcutt, Beth Prater, Kaitlyn Pullam, Nahush Katti and Sumidha Katti.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God Almighty, You are merciful, loving, kind and caring. Your steadfast love never ceases; Your mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning; great is Your faithfulness.

May we remain faithful to our profession. May we remain passionate in serving, blameless in our pursuit of excellence, having a faultless reputation, our lives shaped by Your divine character.

Daily we receive calls, emails, correspondence of all kinds from those we serve. May we never become calloused to the numerous concerns, but responsive to the needs of each one as if it were our own.

Now may the grace of our Lord be with us all.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jack Roberts, Courtney Crawford, Kayla Rains, Tristen Terry, Nicole Cummings, Joseph Cummings, Cameron Kayser, Nick Rehagen, Kelsey Scheppers, McKenzie Smith, Nate Jones, Matthew Rehagen, Marin McMenus, Meredith Brunkow, Griffy Kesler and Emma King.

WHEREAS, the WEP causes hard-working people to lose up to sixty percent of the benefits they earned themselves; and

WHEREAS, many workers rely on Social Security Administration statements that fail to take into account the GPO and WEP when projecting benefits; and

WHEREAS, these people have less money to spend in their local economy and sometimes have to turn to expensive government programs like food stamps to make ends meet; and

WHEREAS, during a national teacher shortage, the GPO and WEP discourage people from entering and staying in the teaching profession, since doing so will mean a loss of earned Social Security benefits; and

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Lord, Eternal God,
As we begin this day's session,
We do so with the awareness
Of Your presence,
Within the center of our very selves.

Without Your presence our work
Would be empty and we would be empty.

Grant us a share in Your wisdom and Your vision;
Gift us with gentle humor and humility,
That we might work together productively
Accomplishing good things for the people of our State.

We pray to You, our God,
Who lives and reigns forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 10, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, many are the wonders You have done. The things You planned for us no one can recount to You; were we to speak and tell of them, they would be too many to declare.

We are very much aware that, by Your grace, a great door of opportunity has been opened to us to influence a culture for generations to come. In light of this, may we daily examine ourselves concerning our motives, plans, purposes, and pursuits.

We thank You, Lord God, for glimpses of what can be accomplished as we work together for the betterment of our state and its populace. Grant us wisdom beyond our natural understanding, skills beyond our natural abilities and patience beyond our breaking points.

Praise, glory, wisdom, thanks, honor, power, and strength be to You, forever and ever!

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-fourth day was approved as printed.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1722, Page 17, Section 167.630, Line 13, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"168.133. 1. The school district shall ensure that a criminal background check is conducted on any person employed after January 1, 2005, authorized to have contact with pupils and prior to the individual having contact with any pupil. Such persons include, but are not limited to, administrators, teachers, aides, paraprofessionals, assistants, secretaries, custodians, cooks, and nurses. The school district shall also ensure that a criminal background check is conducted for school bus drivers. The district may allow such drivers to operate buses pending the result of the criminal background check. For bus drivers, the background check shall be conducted on drivers employed by the school district or employed by a pupil transportation company under contract with the school district.

2. In order to facilitate the criminal history background check on any person employed after January 1, 2005, the applicant shall submit two sets of fingerprints collected pursuant to standards determined by the Missouri highway patrol. One set of fingerprints shall be used by the highway patrol to search the criminal history repository and the family care safety registry pursuant to sections 210.900 to 210.936, RSMo, and the second set shall be forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for searching the federal criminal history files.

3. The applicant shall pay the fee for the state criminal history record information pursuant to section 43.530, RSMo, and sections 210.900 to 210.936, RSMo, and pay the appropriate fee determined by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the federal criminal history record when he or she applies for a position authorized to have contact with pupils pursuant to this section. The department shall distribute the fees collected for the state and federal criminal histories to the Missouri highway patrol.

4. The school district may adopt a policy to provide for reimbursement of expenses incurred by an employee for state and federal criminal history information pursuant to section 43.530, RSMo.

5. If, as a result of the criminal history background check mandated by this section, it is determined that the holder of a certificate issued pursuant to section 168.021 has pled guilty or nolo contendere to, or been found guilty of a crime or offense listed in section 168.071, or a similar crime or offense committed in another state, the United States, or any other country, regardless of imposition of sentence, such information shall be reported to the department of elementary and secondary education.

6. Any school official making a report to the department of elementary and secondary education in conformity with this section shall not be subject to civil liability for such action.

7. For any teacher who is employed by a school district on a substitute or part-time basis within one year of such teacher's retirement from a Missouri school, the state of Missouri shall not require such teacher to be subject to any additional background checks prior to having contact with pupils. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as prohibiting or otherwise restricting a school district from requiring additional background checks for such teachers employed by the school district.

8. A criminal background check and fingerprint collection conducted under subsections 1 and 2 of this section shall be valid for at least a period of one year and transferrable from one school district to another district. A teacher's change in type of certification shall have no effect on the transferability of such records.

9. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter the standards for suspension, denial, or revocation of a certificate issued pursuant to this chapter.

[9.] 10. The state board of education may promulgate rules for criminal history background checks made pursuant to this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after January 1, 2005, shall be invalid and void."; and

Almighty God, we thank You for the beginnings of springtime, the cool, fresh air and the sunshine, that keep us alert for the work of the day. We thank You for the beginnings of new life revealed in the early green vegetation.

May our joy at seeing new life around us prepare us to respect profoundly human life and dignity. From this foundation, help us to give our best as we work on issues of direct protection of human life and the issues of poverty, health care, education, and whatever is on our agenda.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God Almighty, we are thankful that Your mercy is not withheld from us; Your love and Your truth protect us at all times.

Heavenly Father, continually remind us that the completion of the work here before us, is not the final passing of a law, but its long term effect upon the people it is intended to assist. Help us, Lord God, to legislate with the proper forethought and comprehension.

May we be uniquely aware of Your presence and influence in all we say and do whether here or at home during the upcoming break. May we return refreshed, strengthened and prepared for the intensity of the latter half of this session.

Now unto You, Who alone is wise, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Isaac Wade Parker, Clara Elizabeth Parker, Ryan Higginbotham, Keely Strong, Mary Catherine Brown, Boyd Macdonald, Jordan Young, Savannah Frame, Alec Rush, Elizabeth Paige Kunkel, Elizabeth Stepp and Andrew Stepp.

The Journal of the thirty-sixth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good,
For His kindness endures forever.
(Psalms 106:1)

O Lord, our God, indeed we give You thanks and praise for all the blessings in our lives. This morning, we thank You for the approach of Spring Break, a time to reflect upon the themes of our work, a time to listen to those we represent, a time to celebrate life with our families, a 'pause that refreshes'.

We ask Your blessing upon all those who assist us, especially those who must work during much of the break.

We pray for those who are suffering physical illness, chronic pain, and for all for whom Spring Break is not a break. We pray for those who do not have the physical and mental ability to hold a job that merits a living wage. Help us to see clearly how we are to help them.

We give You thanks, Almighty God, for the good we have accomplished so far during this Second Regular Session of the 94th General Assembly.

We pray to You, our Lord and God forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 26

WHEREAS, providing art, drama, and music education teaches our children to compete creatively in our global economy; promotes greater success in math, reading, problem solving, decision making, self-esteem, self-discipline, and accepting responsibility to finish tasks; and contributes to higher attendance and graduation rates; and

WHEREAS, comprehensive arts education is eroding in our public schools, with instructional time for art and music being reduced by 22% in school districts; and

WHEREAS, the federal government recognizes the importance of art education in our children's education by designating it as a required core academic subject; and

WHEREAS, students who participate in the arts outperform those who do not on virtually every measure. Researchers have found that sustained learning in music and theater correlates to greater success in math and reading, with students from lower socioeconomic backgrounds reaping the greatest benefits; and

WHEREAS, the arts are uniquely able to boost learning and achievement for young children, students with disabilities, students from economically disadvantaged circumstances, and students needing remedial instruction. A 1992 Auburn University study found significant increases in self-concept of at-risk children participating in an arts program that included music, movement, dramatics, and arts, as measured by the Piers-Harris Children's Self-Concept Scale; and

WHEREAS, skills learned through the discipline of music transfer to study skills, communication skills, and cognitive skills useful in every part of the curriculum. In 1992, researchers at the University of Montreal used various brain imaging techniques to investigate brain activity during musical tasks and found that sight-reading musical scores and playing music both activate regions in all four of the cortex's lobes, and that parts of the cerebellum are also activated during those tasks. Likewise, in 1994, researchers in Leipzig found that brain scans of musicians showed larger planum temporale (a brain region related to some reading skills) than those of non-musicians. They also found that the musicians had a thicker corpus callosum (the bundle of nerve fibers that connects the two halves of the brain) than those of non-musicians, especially for those who had begun their training before the age of seven; and

WHEREAS, researchers have found music therapy to be beneficial in unlocking the social interactions autism prevents in autistic children and in treating people who may not be able to speak as a result of brain damage from a stroke; and

WHEREAS, the schools that produce the highest academic achievement in the United States today are spending 20% to 30% of the day on the arts. United States Department of Education data from 1999 show that students who report consistently high levels of involvement in instrumental music during the middle school and high school years show "significantly higher levels of mathematics proficiency by grade 12"; and

WHEREAS, with music in schools, students connect to each other better, resulting in greater camaraderie, fewer fights, less racism, and reduced use of hurtful sarcasm. With music instruction in schools, teachers found that students were less aggressive. Nine out of ten adults and teenagers who play instruments agree that music making brings the family closer together. College-age musicians are emotionally healthier than their non-musician counterparts for performance anxiety, emotional concerns, and alcohol-related problems; and

WHEREAS, the National Association for Music Education reports that schools that have music programs have significantly higher attendance rates (93.3% as compared to 84.9%) and graduation rates (90.2% as compared to 72.9%). As the percentage of students enrolled in a music class increases, so does the graduation rate of the school:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby acknowledge the commitment of school districts in Missouri to enrich the lives of students through the fine arts and commend their efforts; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly recognizes the importance of fine arts in our children's public education and the profound effect they have on the ability of students to interact, communicate, learn, and achieve in a global economy, where every advantage available is necessary; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly strongly urges and encourages the Governor of the State of Missouri and the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to secure these advantages to our students by seeking additional funding for fine arts education from all available sources, including federal grants and aid; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Governor Matt Blunt, the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, and each school district in Missouri.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Elementary and Secondary Education, to which was referred HB 1676, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that the House Committee Substitute Do Pass by Consent, and pursuant to Rule 25(21)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Committee on Health Care Policy, Chairman Cooper (155) reporting:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 27

WHEREAS, fibromyalgia is a significant health problem affecting over five million adults nationwide. It is six times more prevalent than muscular dystrophy, cystic fibrosis, leukemia, and multiple sclerosis combined; and

WHEREAS, fibromyalgia is a disabling pain condition. Its symptoms are chronic, and include pain, extreme fatigue, sleep disorders, migraine headaches, and impairment of memory and concentration; and

WHEREAS, the average fibromyalgia patient suffers for an average of five years prior to obtaining a correct diagnosis, resulting in a worsened condition that is more debilitating and more difficult and expensive to treat; and

WHEREAS, fibromyalgia patients are often misunderstood by family members, employers, and physicians as malingerers, depressives, and hypochondriacs due to inadequate knowledge of fibromyalgia. While the condition may be mistakenly thought of by some as a mental health disorder, it is actually a pain condition as defined by the American College of Rheumatology and should be treated as such. Fibromyalgia patients look normal and can function normally for short periods of time, but quickly experience debilitating pain and fatigue; and

WHEREAS, fibromyalgia is costly to the state. An estimated one billion dollars in medical expenses, lost wages, and associated economic costs can be attributed nationwide to the disease. It is also costly in social terms to families and children, as 90% of fibromyalgia patients are women; and

WHEREAS, evidence indicates that the incidence of fibromyalgia may be increasing at a rapid rate:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby support the establishment of the Missouri Fibromyalgia Awareness Initiative Program to do all of the following:

- (5) Promote access to accepted treatments for fibromyalgia and distribution of information about how patients can gain access to those therapies; and

(6) Promote an assessment, including the potential implications for use of different types of controlled substances and abuse of other substances, including alcohol and illicit drugs; and

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTIETH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 25, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Lord, Source of All Our Strength, be with each of us as we begin our work after the Spring break. Grant us the courage to be open to each other and to not be fearful of challenge.

Strengthen us with a willingness to give and take, to advance the work of this House and the well being of all the people. Give us the ability to discern what is true and good in the various bills, proposals and lines of argument.

By Your grace may we accomplish well the work that must be completed during the next two months.

To You, Almighty God, be glory and honor forever. Amen.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, You are God, the great, the mighty, and the awesome God. You are not a respecter of persons and do no evil.

Heavenly Father, as we reflect on the tragic events of the past couple of weeks; those who have lost family, homes, jobs, we ask of You, grace, mercy, compassion and speedy relief from the various responding agencies. We dare not take for granted the love and safety of our own families, the abundant provision of this land, the safety of our travels, and most of all, life itself.

As we turn our attention to the business at hand, we are aware of the awesome responsibilities given to us and the expectation of the people we serve to provide needed relief. As humble servants, grant us wisdom and understanding to provide uncomplicated solutions to complex problems. May our time here be memorable and fruitful.

Now unto You, Who alone is wise, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lexi Lynn Couey, Laryn Grant, Clayton Stalling, Larry Grant, Kaylyn Kloepper and Kaylie Nicole Warne-Robin.

The Journal of the fortieth day was approved as corrected.

HOUSE BILL WITH SENATE AMENDMENT

SCS HCS HB 2014 - Icet

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-SECOND DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

"Let us greet the Lord with thanksgiving;
let us joyfully sing psalms to him."
(Psalm 95:2)

Almighty God, we offer You the late hours of work this week as a thanksgiving sacrifice. We thank You for the opportunity to serve and for the great amount of work accomplished.

Continue to bless us in wisdom and right judgment, that we might do our part in distributing the resources of our State in justice and equity through a healthy budget.

We thank You for the coming weekend. We pray for the safety of those who travel and for the healing of the sick.

We pray that You, Almighty God, change the hearts of those who continue to precipitate violence and war. Protect our armed forces and bring peace to Iraq and Afghanistan, and wherever there is violent killing.

To You be honor and thanksgiving forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Aaron Powell, Grant Martin, Courtney Gazaway, Lane Brewer, Arby McGhee, Mallory Early, Megan Uptegrove, Alex Anstine, William Noe, Chance Cumpton, David Spaid, Zach Leader, Cassie Watkins, Jenna Watkins, Jacob McGary, Trinity King, Damon King, Ashley Gonnerman, Zach Hudson, Megan Bowers, Emily Klote and Robert Schaaf.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-FOURTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 31, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

We give thanks to You, Lord, for You are good; For Your mercy endures forever. We give thanks to Your Holy name and glory in Your praise.

Lord God, as we begin this week, may we not act on our own thoughts and ideas without first taking counsel with You. As we accept Your counsel, without delay, a logical path is made available to us.

We answered Your call to action and immediately recognized our own insufficiency. Our sufficiency comes from You. Direct our steps as we seek to do Your will and finish well what we have begun.

Blessed be You, Lord God, from everlasting even to everlasting.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the forty-second day was approved as printed by the following vote:

The application shall contain a full description of the vessel, factory number or serial number, together with a statement of the applicant's source of title and of any liens or encumbrances on the vessel. For good cause shown the director of revenue may extend the period of time for making such application. The director of revenue shall use reasonable diligence in ascertaining whether the facts stated in such application are true, and, if satisfied that the applicant is the lawful owner of such vessel, or otherwise entitled to have the same registered in his or her name, shall thereupon issue an appropriate certificate of title over the director's signature and sealed with the seal of the director's office, procured and used for such purpose, and a certificate of number stating the number awarded to the vessel. The application shall include a provision stating that the applicant will consent to any inspection necessary to determine compliance with the provisions of this chapter and shall be signed by the owner of the vessel and shall be accompanied by the fee specified in subsection 10 of this section. 7. The department of revenue shall fix the days and months of the year on which certificates of number due to expire during the calendar year shall lapse and no longer be of any force and effect unless renewed pursuant to this chapter and may stagger such dates in order to distribute the workload.

8. When applying for or renewing a vessel's certificate of number, the owner shall submit a paid personal property tax receipt for the tax year which immediately precedes the year in which the application is made or the year in which the renewal is due and which reflects that the vessel being renewed is listed as personal property and that all personal property taxes, including delinquent taxes from prior years, have been paid, or a statement certified by the county or township in which the owner's property was assessed showing that the state and county tangible personal property taxes for such previous tax year and all delinquent taxes due have been paid by the applicant or that no such taxes were due.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-FIFTH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 1, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Frank Bussmann, St. Peter Church, Jefferson City, Missouri.

Creator God,
Give us a heart for simple things:
Love and laughter, bread and wine, tales and dreams.
Fill our lives with growing hope!
Give us faith to go forward with courage,
Not knowing fully where we are going but sure that Your hand is leading us and Your love supporting us.
Make us a people of justice whose song is Alleluia!
We make this prayer in the name of the one who is able to do everything for us. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Mark Justice Long, Logen Hull, Trenton Hughes, Kelsea Anderson, Atean Catanzaro, Abby Carey, Will Hebrank, Dominic Palombo, Angelica Pecha and Nikki Sherwood.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-SIXTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, You are our shield and our defense, to guard us and give us success.

We are mindful that our ways are in Your full view and You examine our every decision. May Your directives be so near and dear to us that when we walk, they will guide us; when we sleep, they will watch over us; when we awake, they will speak to us.

Help us, Lord God, not to over-estimate ourselves or under-estimate others. May our words be truthful, and our actions honorable. Grant us, this day, a heart that manufactures productive thoughts and plans and may we be swift in condemning the false and prompt in praising the good.

Now may You, who give us patience and encouragement, help us to live in complete harmony with each other.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 25

WHEREAS, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is charged with protecting the public from unreasonable risks of serious injury or death from more than 15,000 types of consumer products under the agency's jurisdiction. The CPSC has rated furniture tip-overs as number 3 of the top 5 hidden home hazards; and

WHEREAS, according to the CPSC, each year an estimated 3,000 children ages 5 and younger nationwide go to the emergency room with injuries caused by television sets falling or tipping over, and at least 100 people - mostly young children - have been killed since 2000 by falling televisions or other furniture; and

WHEREAS, in September of 2006, the CPSC warned parents and caregivers about the dangers of television and heavy furniture tipping over and killing young children. From 2000 to 2005, CPSC had reports of 36 television tip-over deaths and 65 furniture tip-over deaths. More than 80% of all these deaths involved young children; and

WHEREAS, the number of deaths due to furniture tip-overs is on the rise. In 2006, the CPSC reported 31 deaths from improperly secured furniture and televisions, with tip-overs resulting in an average of 22 deaths per year; and

WHEREAS, very heavy furniture items can potentially cause crush injuries, but more commonly when a large dresser, shelf, or home entertainment center tips, the resulting injury is often suffocation. Children become pinned between the tipping furniture and the bed or floor, unable to breathe or call for help, making it a nearly silent event; and

WHEREAS, the danger of tipping comes when a child tries to climb the front of a furniture piece. In these accidents, the child attempts to reach the top of the furniture piece by using a bottom drawer or shelf like a step. The weight of the furniture and the child pulling down in the front causes the whole piece to tilt forward. Heavy items on top of the furniture can fall on the child or the furniture piece itself can fall forward onto the child; and

WHEREAS, the committee of the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) met in March 2007 to discuss and revise a proposed standard for testing tipping on dressers, armoires, and drawer chests. However, the ASTM can only establish voluntary standards and the proposed revised standard does not include other types of furniture, such as entertainment centers, television stands, or any piece of furniture 30 inches in height or less; and

WHEREAS, while the ASTM, furniture executives, and consumer safety advocates are working together to form voluntary safety standards to address this issue, the increase in tipping furniture deaths and injuries to children demands mandatory regulation regarding labeling, furniture standards, and the use of anchoring devices:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress and the Consumer Product Safety Commission to immediately enact mandatory regulations that:

(1) Strengthens and makes mandatory the ASTM International's voluntary furniture safety standard for furniture tip-over hazards;

(2) Requires warning labels on tip-over risks to be posted on all assembled and ready-to-assemble furniture and major appliances; and

(3) Requires all furniture and major appliances with a tip-over risk to come with anchoring devices that can be used to safely secure them to walls; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Nancy A. Nord, the Acting Chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Mr. Speaker: Your Special Committee on Family Services, to which was referred HB 1839, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that the House Committee Substitute Do Pass, and pursuant to Rule 25(21)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY, THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Almighty God and Father we praise and thank You for the resources You have placed in the world that provide for our needs and enrich our lives. They are Your fatherly gifts to us. We thank You for them.

We thank You for the priceless gift of our children; we thank You first for the children who call us father or mother; we thank You for the children of all the families in our State.

In recent days we have learned that many children need our attention, especially those suffering with the disabilities of autism. We pray for them. Help us, God our Father, to understand their needs and give us the wisdom to do our part in helping them.

Almighty God, help us to do our part in building a world where all children can live in peace. We pray for peace in Iraq and for all the children there. We pray for the solution of all problems that threaten peace in the world.

We pray to You, who are our God, forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ronada Hood, LaBria Keys, Micah Jones, Spencer Ruwe, Derek Reynolds, Jeremy Hughes, Zack Hamilton, Jack Streu, Matt Madill, Ashlyn Weber, Ashley Hopper, Lindsey Bogart, Linley Weicken, Laura Leonard, Jacob Sexton, Maryah Burnett, Kimberly Woods, Adam Unsworth, Shadrack Scheppert and Greg Gentry.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 7, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, who is like You in all the earth: Glorious in holiness, awesome in splendor, performing great wonders?

These words are eternally recorded, "Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be still wiser; teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning."

We acknowledge that wisdom is worth much more than precious jewels or anything else we could possibly desire. So we ask of You, this week, wisdom without boundaries, knowledge without interruption and understanding beyond normal scholarship.

And now, may You show us the incomparable riches of Your grace, that we might know that we are Your workmanship to do good works which You have prepared in advance for us to do.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Nathan Bowen.

The Journal of the forty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

PERFECTION OF HOUSE BILL

HB 1716, relating to the Federal Real ID Act of 2005, was taken up by Representative Guest.

Representative Bringer offered House Amendment No. 1.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Bill No. 1716, Section A, Page 1, Line 2, by inserting after all of said section the following:

"302.171. 1. Beginning July 1, 2005, the director shall verify that an applicant for a driver's license is lawfully present in the United States before accepting the application. The director shall not issue a driver's license for a period that exceeds an applicant's lawful presence in the United States. The director may establish procedures to verify the lawful presence of the applicant and establish the duration of any driver's license issued under this section. An application for a license shall be made upon an approved form furnished by the director. Every application shall state the full name, Social Security number, age, height, weight, color of eyes, sex, residence, mailing address of the applicant, and the classification for which the applicant has been licensed, and, if so, when and by what state, and whether or not such license has ever been suspended, revoked, or disqualified, and, if revoked, suspended or disqualified, the date and reason for such suspension, revocation or disqualification and whether the applicant is making a one dollar donation to promote an organ donation program as prescribed in subsection 2 of this section. A driver's license, nondriver's license, or instruction permit issued under this chapter shall contain the applicant's legal name as it appears on a birth certificate or as legally changed through marriage or court order. No name change by common usage based on common law shall be permitted. The application shall also contain such information as the director may require to enable the director to determine the applicant's qualification for driving a motor vehicle; and shall state whether or not the applicant has been convicted in this or any other state for violating the laws of this or any other state or any ordinance of any municipality, relating to driving without a license, careless driving, or driving while intoxicated, or failing to stop after an accident and disclosing the applicant's identity, or driving a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. The application shall contain a certification by the applicant as to the truth of the facts stated therein. Every person who applies for a license to operate a motor vehicle who is less than twenty-one years of age shall be provided with educational materials relating to the hazards of driving while intoxicated, including information on penalties imposed by law for violation of the intoxication-related offenses of the state. Beginning January 1, 2001, if the applicant is less than eighteen years of age, the applicant must comply with all requirements for the issuance of an intermediate driver's license pursuant to section 302.178. For persons mobilized and deployed with the United States Armed Forces, an application under this subsection shall be considered satisfactory by the department of revenue if it is signed by a person who holds general power of attorney executed by the person deployed, provided the applicant meets all other requirements set by the director.

2. An applicant for a license may make a donation of one dollar to promote an organ donor program. The director of revenue shall collect the donations and deposit all such donations in the state treasury to the credit of the organ donor program fund established in sections 194.297 to 194.304, RSMo. Moneys in the organ donor program fund shall be used solely for the purposes established in sections 194.297 to 194.304, RSMo, except that the department of revenue shall retain no more than one percent for its administrative costs. The donation prescribed in this subsection is voluntary and may be refused by the applicant for the license at the time of issuance or renewal of the license. The director shall make available an informational booklet or other informational sources on the importance of organ donations to applicants for licensure as designed by the organ donation advisory committee established in sections 194.297 to 194.304, RSMo. The director shall inquire of each applicant at the time the licensee presents the completed application to the director whether the applicant is interested in making the one dollar donation prescribed in this subsection and whether the applicant is interested in inclusion in the organ donor registry and shall also specifically inform the licensee of the ability to consent to organ donation by completing the form on the reverse of the license that the applicant will receive in the manner prescribed by subsection 6 of section 194.240, RSMo. The director shall notify the department of health and senior services of information obtained from applicants who indicate to the director that they are interested in registry participation, and the department of health and senior services shall enter the complete name, address, date of birth, race, gender and a unique personal identifier in the registry established in subsection 1 of section 194.304, RSMo.

3. An applicant for a license may make a donation of one dollar to promote a blindness education, screening and treatment program. The director of revenue shall collect the donations and deposit all such donations in the state treasury to the credit of the blindness education, screening and treatment program fund established in section 192.935, RSMo. Moneys in the blindness education, screening and treatment program fund shall be used solely for the purposes established in section 192.935, RSMo, except that the department of revenue shall retain no more than one percent for its administrative costs. The donation prescribed in this subsection is voluntary and may be refused by the applicant for the license at the time of issuance or renewal of the license. The director shall inquire of each applicant at the time the licensee presents the completed application to the director whether the applicant is interested in making the one dollar donation prescribed in this subsection.

4. Beginning July 1, 2005, the director shall deny the driving privilege of any person who commits fraud or deception during the examination process or who makes application for an instruction permit, driver's license, or nondriver's license which contains or is substantiated with false or fraudulent information or documentation, or who knowingly conceals a material fact or otherwise commits a fraud in any such application. The period of denial shall be one year from the effective date of the denial notice sent by the director. The denial shall become effective ten days after the date the denial notice is mailed to the person. The notice shall be mailed to the person at the last known address shown on the person's driving record. The notice shall be deemed received three days after mailing unless returned by the postal authorities. No such individual shall reapply for a driver's examination, instruction permit, driver's license, or nondriver's license until the period of denial is completed. No individual who is denied the driving privilege under this section shall be eligible for a limited driving privilege issued under section 302.309.

5. All appeals of denials under this section shall be made as required by section 302.311.

6. The period of limitation for criminal prosecution under this section shall be extended under subdivision (1) of subsection 3 of section 556.036, RSMo.

7. The director may promulgate rules and regulations necessary to administer and enforce this section. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated pursuant to the authority of this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo.

8. Notwithstanding any provisions of this chapter that requires an applicant to provide proof of lawful presence for renewal of a noncommercial driver's license, noncommercial instruction permit, or nondriver's license, an applicant who is sixty-five years and older and who was previously issued a Missouri noncommercial driver's license, noncommercial instruction permit, or Missouri nondriver's license is exempt from showing proof of lawful presence.

9. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, for the renewal of a noncommercial driver's license, noncommercial instruction permit, or nondriver's license, a photocopy of an applicant's birth certificate along with another form of identification approved by the department of revenue, including, but not limited to, military identification or military discharge papers, shall constitute sufficient proof of lawful presence.

10. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, if an applicant does not meet the requirements of subsection 8 or 9 of this section and does not have the required documents to prove lawful presence, the department may issue a one-year driver's license renewal. This one-time renewal shall only be issued to an applicant who previously has held a Missouri noncommercial driver's license, noncommercial instruction permit, or nondriver's license for a period of fifteen years or more and who does not have the required documents to prove lawful presence. After the expiration of the one-year period, no further renewal shall be provided without the applicant producing proof of lawful presence."; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

Representative Funderburk raised a point of order that House Amendment No. 1 goes beyond the scope of the bill.

Representative Nieves requested a parliamentary ruling.

COMMUNICATION

April 7, 2008

Mr. D. Adam Crumbliss, Chief Clerk
Missouri House of Representatives
State Capitol - Room 306C
Jefferson City, MO 65101

RE: Possible Personal Interest in Legislation

Dear Chief Clerk Crumbliss,

Pursuant to Section 105.461, RSMo, I am hereby filing a written letter of a possible interest in legislation that may be voted on during this legislative session.

As an employee on the administrative side of Lindenwood University, I deal with processing government grants, scholarships, and the majority of student loans for my assigned students from Lindenwood University. One of the main requirements of my job is to make sure that the students receive the best possible grants, scholarships, or student loans they qualify for. Possible legislation regarding grants, scholarships and student loans could impact certain aspects of my employment that could come to the Missouri House of Representatives.

In compliance with Section 105.461, RSMo, would you please publish this letter in the Missouri House of Representatives Journal? If you have any questions, please call my office and I will be more than happy to answer them for you. Thank you for your time and help in this matter.

Respectfully yours,

/s/ Rep. Joe Smith

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FORTY-NINTH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 8, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

We praise and thank You for creating us in Your image and likeness with great powers of intellect, judgment and decision. Inspire all the voters in our State to use these powers today by conscientiously casting their ballots. By the careful thought and good will of all, may we together advance the common good this day.

O Lord, we pray today also for our Nation, as our Congress considers the situation in Iraq. Protect our armed forces there. Receive the sacrifice of those who have died. Give clarity of mind to those who listen to the reports in Washington, D. C., that they may discern all aspects of the truth. Guide those who make final decisions regarding Iraq and all our involvements in the Middle East to make choices that are in harmony with Your divine will.

To You, our God, be glory and honor forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Harper Alexander Yates, Louis Lipari, Antony Cherian, Tanner Burns and Krissy Gooch.

The Journal of the forty-eighth day was approved as printed.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill Nos. 1321 & 1695, Section 135.030, Page 5, Line 36, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:

"137.122. 1. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

(1) "Business personal property", tangible personal property which is used in a trade or business or used for production of income and which has a determinable life of longer than one year except that supplies used by a business shall also be considered business personal property, but shall not include livestock, farm machinery, grain and other agricultural crops in an unmanufactured condition, property subject to the motor vehicle registration provisions of chapter 301, RSMo, property assessed under section 137.078, the property of rural electric cooperatives under chapter 394, RSMo, or property assessed by the state tax commission under chapters 151, 153, and 155, RSMo, section 137.022, and sections 137.1000 to 137.1030;

(2) "Class life", the class life of property as set out in the federal Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System life tables or their successors under the Internal Revenue Code as amended;

(3) "Economic or functional obsolescence", a loss in value of personal property above and beyond physical deterioration and age of the property. Such loss may be the result of economic or functional obsolescence or both;

(4) "Original cost", the price the current owner, the taxpayer, paid for the item without freight, installation, or sales or use tax. In the case of acquisition of items of personal property as part of an acquisition of an entity, the original cost shall be the historical cost of those assets remaining in place and in use and the placed in service date shall be the date of acquisition by the entity being acquired;

(5) "Placed in service", property is placed in service when it is ready and available for a specific use, whether in a business activity, an income-producing activity, a tax-exempt activity, or a personal activity. Even if the property is not being used, the property is in service when it is ready and available for its specific use;

(6) "Recovery period", the period over which the original cost of depreciable tangible personal property shall be depreciated for property tax purposes and shall be the same as the recovery period allowed for such property under the Internal Revenue Code.

2. To establish uniformity in the assessment of depreciable tangible personal property, each assessor shall use the standardized schedule of depreciation in this section to determine the assessed valuation of depreciable tangible personal property for the purpose of estimating the value of such property subject to taxation under this chapter.

3. For purposes of this section, and to estimate the value of depreciable tangible personal property for mass appraisal purposes, each assessor shall value depreciable tangible personal property by applying the class life and recovery period to the original cost of the property according to the following depreciation schedule. The percentage shown for the first year shall be the percentage of the original cost used for January first of the year following the year of acquisition of the property, and the percentage shown for each succeeding year shall be the percentage of the original cost used for January first of the respective succeeding year as follows:

Year	Recovery Period in Years
	3	5	7	10	15	20
1	75.00	85.00	89.29	92.50	95.00	96.25
2	37.50	59.50	70.16	78.62	85.50	89.03
3	12.50	41.65	55.13	66.83	76.95	82.35
4	5.00	24.99	42.88	56.81	69.25	76.18
5		10.00	30.63	48.07	62.32	70.46
6			18.38	39.33	56.09	65.18
7			10.00	30.59	50.19	60.29
8				21.85	44.29	55.77
9				15.00	38.38	51.31
10					32.48	46.85
11					26.57	42.38
12					20.67	37.92
13					15.00	33.46
14						29.00
15						24.54
17						20.00

Depreciable tangible personal property in all recovery periods shall continue in subsequent years to have the depreciation factor last listed in the appropriate column so long as it is owned or held by the taxpayer. The state tax commission shall study and analyze the values established by this method of assessment and in every odd-numbered year make recommendations to the joint committee on tax policy pertaining to any changes in this methodology, if any, that are warranted.

4. Such estimate of value determined under this section shall be presumed to be correct for the purpose of determining the true value in money of the depreciable tangible personal property, but such estimation may be disproved by substantial and persuasive evidence of the true value in money under any method determined by the state tax commission to be correct, including, but not limited to, an appraisal of the tangible personal property specifically utilizing generally accepted appraisal techniques, and contained in a narrative appraisal report in accordance with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice or by proof of economic or functional obsolescence or evidence of excessive physical deterioration. For purposes of appeal of the provisions of this section, the salvage or scrap value of depreciable tangible personal property may only be considered if the property is not in use as of the assessment date.

5. This section shall not apply to business personal property placed in service before January 2, 2006. Nothing in this section shall be found to create a presumption as to the proper method of determining the assessed valuation of business personal property placed in service before January 2, 2006.

6. The provisions of this section are not intended to modify the definition of tangible personal property as defined in section 137.010."; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

On motion of Representative Bringer, House Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Representative Cooper (120) offered House Amendment No. 2.

House Amendment No. 2

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill Nos. 1321 & 1695, Section 137.720, Page 6, Line 37, by inserting after all of said section, the following:

"143.121. 1. The Missouri adjusted gross income of a resident individual shall be the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income subject to the modifications in this section.

2. There shall be added to the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income:

(a) The amount of any federal income tax refund received for a prior year which resulted in a Missouri income tax benefit;

(b) Interest on certain governmental obligations excluded from federal gross income by Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code. The previous sentence shall not apply to interest on obligations of the state of Missouri or any of its political subdivisions or authorities and shall not apply to the interest described in subdivision (a) of subsection 3 of this section. The amount added pursuant to this paragraph shall be reduced by the amounts applicable to such interest that would have been deductible in computing the taxable income of the taxpayer except only for the application of Section 265 of the Internal Revenue Code. The reduction shall only be made if it is at least five hundred dollars;

(c) The amount of any deduction that is included in the computation of federal taxable income pursuant to Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code as amended by the Job Creation and Worker Assistance Act of 2002 to the extent the amount deducted relates to property purchased on or after July 1, 2002, but before July 1, 2003, and to the extent the amount deducted exceeds the amount that would have been deductible pursuant to Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 as in effect on January 1, 2002;

(d) The amount of any deduction that is included in the computation of federal taxable income for net operating loss allowed by Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, other than the deduction allowed by Section 172(b)(1)(G) and Section 172(i) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, for a net operating loss the taxpayer claims in the tax year in which the net operating loss occurred or carries forward for a period of more than twenty years and carries backward for more than two years. Any amount of net operating loss taken against federal taxable income but disallowed for Missouri income tax purposes pursuant to this paragraph after June 18, 2002, may be carried forward and taken against any income on the Missouri income tax return for a period of not more than twenty years from the year of the initial loss; and

(e) For nonresident individuals in all taxable years ending on or after December 31, 2006, the amount of any property taxes paid to another state or a political subdivision of another state for which a deduction was allowed on such nonresident's federal return in the taxable year unless such state, political subdivision of another state, or the District of Columbia allows a subtraction from income for property taxes paid to this state for purposes of calculating income for the income tax for such state, political subdivision of another state, or the District of Columbia.

3. There shall be subtracted from the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income the following amounts to the extent included in federal adjusted gross income:

(a) Interest or dividends on obligations of the United States and its territories and possessions or of any authority, commission or instrumentality of the United States to the extent exempt from Missouri income taxes pursuant to the laws of the United States. The amount subtracted pursuant to this paragraph shall be reduced by any interest on indebtedness incurred to carry the described obligations or securities and by any expenses incurred in the production of interest or dividend income described in this paragraph. The reduction in the previous sentence shall only apply to the extent that such expenses including amortizable bond premiums are deducted in determining the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income or included in the taxpayer's Missouri itemized deduction. The reduction shall only be made if the expenses total at least five hundred dollars;

(b) The portion of any gain, from the sale or other disposition of property having a higher adjusted basis to the taxpayer for Missouri income tax purposes than for federal income tax purposes on December 31, 1972, that does not exceed such difference in basis. If a gain is considered a long-term capital gain for federal income tax purposes, the modification shall be limited to one-half of such portion of the gain;

(c) The amount necessary to prevent the taxation pursuant to this chapter of any annuity or other amount of income or gain which was properly included in income or gain and was taxed pursuant to the laws of Missouri for a taxable year prior to January 1, 1973, to the taxpayer, or to a decedent by reason of whose death the taxpayer acquired the right to receive the income or gain, or to a trust or estate from which the taxpayer received the income or gain;

(d) Accumulation distributions received by a taxpayer as a beneficiary of a trust to the extent that the same are included in federal adjusted gross income;

(e) The amount of any state income tax refund for a prior year which was included in the federal adjusted gross income;

(f) The portion of capital gain specified in section 135.357, RSMo, that would otherwise be included in federal adjusted gross income;

(g) The amount that would have been deducted in the computation of federal taxable income pursuant to Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code as in effect on January 1, 2002, to the extent that amount relates to property purchased on or after July 1, 2002, but before July 1, 2003, and to the extent that amount exceeds the amount actually deducted pursuant to Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code as amended by the Job Creation and Worker Assistance Act of 2002;

(h) For all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2005, the amount of any income received for military service while the taxpayer serves in a combat zone which is included in federal adjusted gross income and not otherwise excluded therefrom. As used in this section, "combat zone" means any area which the President of the United States by Executive Order designates as an area in which armed forces of the United States are or have engaged in combat. Service is performed in a combat zone only if performed on or after the date designated by the President by Executive Order as the date of the commencing of combat activities in such zone, and on or before the date designated by the President by Executive Order as the date of the termination of combatant activities in such zone; and

(i) For all tax years ending on or after July 1, 2002, with respect to qualified property that is sold or otherwise disposed of during a taxable year by a taxpayer and for which an addition modification was made under paragraph (c) of subsection 2 of this section, the amount by which addition modification made under paragraph (c) of subsection 2 of this section on qualified property has not been recovered through the additional subtractions provided in paragraph (g) of this subsection.

4. There shall be added to or subtracted from the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income the taxpayer's share of the Missouri fiduciary adjustment provided in section 143.351.

5. There shall be added to or subtracted from the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income the modifications provided in section 143.411.

6. In addition to the modifications to a taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income in this section, to calculate Missouri adjusted gross income there shall be subtracted from the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income any gain recognized pursuant to Section 1033 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, arising from compulsory or involuntary conversion of property as a result of condemnation or the imminence thereof.

7. (1) As used in this subsection, "qualified health insurance premium" means the amount paid during the tax year by such taxpayer for any insurance policy primarily providing health care coverage for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or the taxpayer's dependents.

(2) In addition to the subtractions in subsection 3 of this section, one hundred percent of the amount of qualified health insurance premiums shall be subtracted from the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income to the extent the amount paid for such premiums is included in federal taxable income. #### House Amendment No. 4

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill Nos. 1321 & 1695, Page 1, In the Title, Line 2, by inserting after the section number "135.030," the section number "137.073"; and

Further amend said bill, Page 1, In the Title, Line 3, by deleting the word "four" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "five"; and

Further amend said bill, Page 1, Section A, Line 1, by inserting after the section number "135.030," the section number "137.073"; and

Further amend said bill, Page 1, Section A, Line 2, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"five new sections enacted in lieu thereof, to be known as sections 135.010, 135.025, 135.030, 137.073,"; and

Further amend said bill, Page 5, Section 135.030, Line 36, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"137.073. 1. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

(1) "General reassessment", changes in value, entered in the assessor's books, of a substantial portion of the parcels of real property within a county resulting wholly or partly from reappraisal of value or other actions of the assessor or county equalization body or ordered by the state tax commission or any court;

(2) "Tax rate", "rate", or "rate of levy", singular or plural, includes the tax rate for each purpose of taxation of property a taxing authority is authorized to levy without a vote and any tax rate authorized by election, including bond interest and sinking fund;

(3) "Tax rate ceiling", [a] the tax rate [as revised] used by the taxing authority [to comply with the provisions of this section or when a court has determined] in the preceding year or the tax rate determined by a court; except that, other provisions of law to the contrary notwithstanding, a school district may levy the operating levy for school purposes required for the current year pursuant to subsection 2 of section 163.021, RSMo, less all adjustments required pursuant to article X, section 22 of the Missouri Constitution, if such tax rate does not exceed the highest tax rate in effect subsequent to the 1980 tax year, provided that all levy assessments shall begin from the preceding year's tax rate. This is the maximum tax rate that may be levied, unless a higher tax rate ceiling is approved by voters of the political subdivision as provided in this section;

(4) "Tax revenue", when referring to the previous year, means the actual receipts from ad valorem levies on all classes of property, including state-assessed property, in the immediately preceding fiscal year of the political subdivision, plus an allowance for taxes billed but not collected in the fiscal year and plus an additional allowance for the revenue which would have been collected from property which was annexed by such political subdivision but which was not previously used in determining tax revenue pursuant to this section. The term "tax revenue" shall not include any receipts from ad valorem levies on any property of a railroad corporation or a public utility, as these terms are defined in section 386.020, RSMo, which were assessed by the assessor of a county or city in the previous year but are assessed by the state tax commission in the current year. All school districts and those counties levying sales taxes pursuant to chapter 67, RSMo, shall include in the calculation of tax revenue an amount equivalent to that by which they reduced property tax levies as a result of sales tax pursuant to section 67.505, RSMo, and section 164.013, RSMo, or as excess home dock city or county fees as provided in subsection 4 of section 313.820, RSMo, in the immediately preceding fiscal year but not including any amount calculated to adjust for prior years. For purposes of political subdivisions which were authorized to levy a tax in the prior year but which did not levy such tax or levied a reduced rate, the term "tax revenue", as used in relation to the revision of tax levies mandated by law, shall mean the revenues equal to the amount that would have been available if the voluntary rate reduction had not been made.

2. Whenever changes in assessed valuation are entered in the assessor's books for any personal property, in the aggregate, or for any subclass of real property as such subclasses are established in section 4(b) of article X of the Missouri Constitution and defined in section 137.016, the county clerk in all counties and the assessor of St. Louis City shall notify each political subdivision wholly or partially within the county or St. Louis City of the change in valuation of each subclass of real property, individually, and personal property, in the aggregate, exclusive of new construction and improvements. All political subdivisions shall immediately revise the applicable rates of levy for each purpose for each subclass of real property, individually, and personal property, in the aggregate, for which taxes are levied to the extent necessary to produce from all taxable property, exclusive of new construction and improvements, substantially the same amount of tax revenue as was produced in the previous year for each subclass of real property, individually, and personal property, in the aggregate, except that the rate may not exceed the greater of the rate in effect in the 1984 tax year or the [most recent voter-approved] preceding year's tax rate. Such tax revenue shall not include any receipts from ad valorem levies on any real property which was assessed by the assessor of a county or city in such previous year but is assessed by the assessor of a county or city in the current year in a different subclass of real property. Where the taxing authority is a school district for the purposes of revising the applicable rates of levy for each subclass of real property, the tax revenues from state-assessed railroad and utility property shall be apportioned and attributed to each subclass of real property based on the percentage of the total assessed valuation of the county that each subclass of real property represents in the current taxable year. As provided in section 22 of article X of the constitution, a political subdivision may also revise each levy to allow for inflationary assessment growth occurring within the political subdivision. The inflationary growth factor for any such subclass of real property or personal property shall be limited to the actual assessment growth in such subclass or class, exclusive of new construction and improvements, and exclusive of the assessed value on any real property which was assessed by the assessor of a county or city in the current year in a different subclass of real property, but not to exceed the consumer price index or five percent, whichever is lower. Should the tax revenue of a political subdivision from the various tax rates determined in this subsection be different than the tax revenue that would have been determined from a single tax rate as calculated pursuant to the method of calculation in this subsection prior to January 1, 2003, then the political subdivision shall revise the tax rates of those subclasses of real property, individually, and/or personal property, in the aggregate, in which there is a tax rate reduction, pursuant to the provisions of this subsection. Such revision shall yield an amount equal to such difference and shall be apportioned among such subclasses of real property, individually, and/or personal property, in the aggregate, based on the relative assessed valuation of the class or subclasses of property experiencing a tax rate reduction. Such revision in the tax rates of each class or subclass shall be made by computing the percentage of current year adjusted assessed valuation of each class or subclass with a tax rate reduction to the total current year adjusted assessed valuation of the class or subclasses with a tax rate reduction, multiplying the resulting percentages by the revenue difference between the single rate calculation and the calculations pursuant to this subsection and dividing by the respective adjusted current year assessed valuation of each class or subclass to determine the adjustment to the rate to be levied upon each class or subclass of property. The adjustment computed herein shall be multiplied by one hundred, rounded to four decimals in the manner provided in this subsection, and added to the initial rate computed for each class or subclass of property. Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection to the contrary, no revision to the rate of levy for personal property shall cause such levy to increase over the levy for personal property from the prior year.

3. (1) Where the taxing authority is a school district, it shall be required to revise the rates of levy from the preceding year's tax rate to the extent necessary to produce from all taxable property, including state-assessed railroad and utility property, which shall be separately estimated in addition to other data required in complying with section 164.011, RSMo, substantially the amount of tax revenue permitted in this section. In the year following tax rate reduction, the tax rate ceiling may be adjusted to offset such district's reduction in the apportionment of state school moneys due to its reduced tax rate. However, in the event any school district, in calculating a tax rate ceiling pursuant to this section, requiring the estimating of effects of state-assessed railroad and utility valuation or loss of state aid, discovers that the estimates used result in receipt of excess revenues, which would have required a lower rate if the actual information had been known, the school district shall reduce the tax rate ceiling in the following year to compensate for the excess receipts, and the recalculated rate shall become the tax rate ceiling for purposes of this section.

(2) For any political subdivision which experiences a reduction in the amount of assessed valuation relating to a prior year, due to decisions of the state tax commission or a court pursuant to sections 138.430 to 138.433, RSMo, or due to clerical errors or corrections in the calculation or recordation of any assessed valuation:

(a) Such political subdivision may revise the tax rate ceiling for each purpose it levies taxes to compensate for the reduction in assessed value occurring after the political subdivision calculated the tax rate ceiling for the particular subclass of real property or for personal property, in the aggregate, in the prior year. Such revision by the political subdivision shall be made at the time of the next calculation of the tax rate for the particular subclass of real property or for personal property, in the aggregate, after the reduction in assessed valuation has been determined and shall be calculated in a manner that results in the revised tax rate ceiling being the same as it would have been had the corrected or finalized assessment been available at the time of the prior calculation;

(b) In addition, for up to three years following the determination of the reduction in assessed valuation as a result of circumstances defined in this subdivision, such political subdivision may levy a tax rate for each purpose it levies taxes above the revised tax rate ceiling provided in paragraph (a) of this subdivision to recoup any revenues it was entitled to receive for the three-year period preceding such determination.

4. (1) In order to implement the provisions of this section and section 22 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri, the term "improvements" shall apply to both real and personal property. In order to determine the value of new construction and improvements, each county assessor shall maintain a record of real property valuations in such a manner as to identify each year the increase in valuation for each political subdivision in the county as a result of new construction and improvements. The value of new construction and improvements shall include the additional assessed value of all improvements or additions to real property which were begun after and were not part of the prior year's assessment, except that the additional assessed value of all improvements or additions to real property which had been totally or partially exempt from ad valorem taxes pursuant to sections 99.800 to 99.865, RSMo, sections 135.200 to 135.255, RSMo, and section 353.110, RSMo, shall be included in the value of new construction and improvements when the property becomes totally or partially subject to assessment and payment of all ad valorem taxes. The aggregate increase in valuation of personal property for the current year over that of the previous year is the equivalent of the new construction and improvements factor for personal property. Notwithstanding any opt-out implemented pursuant to subsection 15 of section 137.115, the assessor shall certify the amount of new construction and improvements and the amount of assessed value on any real property which was assessed by the assessor of a county or city in such previous year but is assessed by the assessor of a county or city in the current year in a different subclass of real property separately for each of the three subclasses of real property for each political subdivision to the county clerk in order that political subdivisions shall have this information for the purpose of calculating tax rates pursuant to this section and section 22, article X, Constitution of Missouri. In addition, the state tax commission shall certify each year to each county clerk the increase in the general price level as measured by the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the United States, or its successor publications, as defined and officially reported by the United States Department of Labor, or its successor agency. The state tax commission shall certify the increase in such index on the latest twelve-month basis available on June first of each year over the immediately preceding prior twelve-month period in order that political subdivisions shall have this information available in setting their tax rates according to law and section 22 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri. For purposes of implementing the provisions of this section and section 22 of article X of the Missouri Constitution, the term "property" means all taxable property, including state-assessed property.

(2) Each political subdivision required to revise rates of levy pursuant to this section or section 22 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri shall calculate each tax rate it is authorized to levy and, in establishing each tax rate, shall consider each provision for tax rate revision provided in this section and section 22 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri, separately and without regard to annual tax rate reductions provided in section 67.505, RSMo, and section 164.013, RSMo. Each political subdivision shall set each tax rate it is authorized to levy using the calculation that produces the lowest tax rate ceiling. It is further the intent of the general assembly, pursuant to the authority of section 10(c) of article X of the Constitution of Missouri, that the provisions of such section be applicable to tax rate revisions mandated pursuant to section 22 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri as to reestablishing tax rates as revised in subsequent years, enforcement provisions, and other provisions not in conflict with section 22 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri. Annual tax rate reductions provided in section 67.505, RSMo, and section 164.013, RSMo, shall be applied to the tax rate as established pursuant to this section and section 22 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri, unless otherwise provided by law.

5. (1) In all political subdivisions, the tax rate ceiling established pursuant to this section shall not be increased unless approved by a vote of the people. Approval of the higher tax rate shall be by at least a majority of votes cast. When a proposed higher tax rate requires approval by more than a simple majority pursuant to any provision of law or the constitution, the tax rate increase must receive approval by at least the majority required.

(2) When voters approve an increase in the tax rate, the amount of the increase shall be added to the tax rate ceiling as calculated pursuant to this section to the extent the total rate does not exceed any maximum rate prescribed by law. The amount of revenue received from the voter-approved increase in the tax rate shall not exceed the revenue derived by applying the levy increase to the preceding year's assessed valuation as certified by the state tax commission. If a ballot question presents a stated tax rate for approval rather than describing the amount of increase in the question, the stated tax rate approved shall be the current tax rate ceiling. The increased tax rate ceiling as approved may be applied to the total assessed valuation of the political subdivision at the setting of the next tax rate.

(3) The governing body of any political subdivision may levy a tax rate lower than its tax rate ceiling [and may increase that lowered tax rate to a level not exceeding the tax rate ceiling without voter approval].

6. (1) For the purposes of calculating state aid for public schools pursuant to section 163.031, RSMo, each taxing authority which is a school district shall determine its proposed tax rate as a blended rate of the classes or subclasses of property. Such blended rate shall be calculated by first determining the total tax revenue of the property within the jurisdiction of the taxing authority, which amount shall be equal to the sum of the products of multiplying the assessed valuation of each class and subclass of property by the corresponding tax rate for such class or subclass, then dividing the total tax revenue by the total assessed valuation of the same jurisdiction, and then multiplying the resulting quotient by a factor of one hundred. Where the taxing authority is a school district, such blended rate shall also be used by such school district for calculating revenue from state-assessed railroad and utility property as defined in chapter 151, RSMo, and for apportioning the tax rate by purpose.

(2) Each taxing authority proposing to levy a tax rate in any year shall notify the clerk of the county commission in the county or counties where the tax rate applies of its tax rate ceiling and its proposed tax rate. Each taxing authority shall express its proposed tax rate in a fraction equal to the nearest one-tenth of a cent, unless its proposed tax rate is in excess of one dollar, then one/one-hundredth of a cent. If a taxing authority shall round to one/one-hundredth of a cent, it shall round up a fraction greater than or equal to five/one-thousandth of one cent to the next higher one/one-hundredth of a cent; if a taxing authority shall round to one-tenth of a cent, it shall round up a fraction greater than or equal to five/one-hundredths of a cent to the next higher one-tenth of a cent. Any taxing authority levying a property tax rate shall provide data, in such form as shall be prescribed by the state auditor by rule, substantiating such tax rate complies with Missouri law. All forms for the calculation of rates pursuant to this section shall be promulgated as a rule and shall not be incorporated by reference. The state auditor shall promulgate rules for any and all forms for the calculation of rates pursuant to this section which do not currently exist in rule form or that have been incorporated by reference. In addition, each taxing authority proposing to levy a tax rate for debt service shall provide data, in such form as shall be prescribed by the state auditor by rule, substantiating the tax rate for debt service complies with Missouri law. A tax rate proposed for annual debt service requirements will be prima facie valid if, after making the payment for which the tax was levied, bonds remain outstanding and the debt fund reserves do not exceed the following year's payments. The county clerk shall keep on file and available for public inspection all such information for a period of three years. The clerk shall, within three days of receipt, forward a copy of the notice of a taxing authority's tax rate ceiling and proposed tax rate and any substantiating data to the state auditor. The state auditor shall, within fifteen days of the date of receipt, examine such information and return to the county clerk his or her findings as to compliance of the tax rate ceiling with this section and as to compliance of any proposed tax rate for debt service with Missouri law. If the state auditor believes that a taxing authority's proposed tax rate does not comply with Missouri law, then the state auditor's findings shall include a recalculated tax rate, and the state auditor may request a taxing authority to submit documentation supporting such taxing authority's proposed tax rate. The county clerk shall immediately forward a copy of the auditor's findings to the taxing authority and shall file a copy of the findings with the information received from the taxing authority. The taxing authority shall have fifteen days from the date of receipt from the county clerk of the state auditor's findings and any request for supporting documentation to accept or reject in writing the rate change certified by the state auditor and to submit all requested information to the state auditor. A copy of the taxing authority's acceptance or rejection and any information submitted to the state auditor shall also be mailed to the county clerk. If a taxing authority rejects a rate change certified by the state auditor and the state auditor does not receive supporting information which justifies the taxing authority's original or any subsequent proposed tax rate, then the state auditor shall refer the perceived violations of such taxing authority to the attorney general's office and the attorney general is authorized to obtain injunctive relief to prevent the taxing authority from levying a violative tax rate.

7. No tax rate shall be extended on the tax rolls by the county clerk unless the political subdivision has complied with the foregoing provisions of this section.

8. Whenever a taxpayer has cause to believe that a taxing authority has not complied with the provisions of this section, the taxpayer may make a formal complaint with the prosecuting attorney of the county. Where the prosecuting attorney fails to bring an action within ten days of the filing of the complaint, the taxpayer may bring a civil action pursuant to this section and institute an action as representative of a class of all taxpayers within a taxing authority if the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, if there are questions of law or fact common to the class, if the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class, and if the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class. In any class action maintained pursuant to this section, the court may direct to the members of the class a notice to be published at least once each week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the civil action is commenced and in other counties within the jurisdiction of a taxing authority. The notice shall advise each member that the court will exclude him or her from the class if he or she so requests by a specified date, that the judgment, whether favorable or not, will include all members who do not request exclusion, and that any member who does not request exclusion may, if he or she desires, enter an appearance. In any class action brought pursuant to this section, the court, in addition to the relief requested, shall assess against the taxing authority found to be in violation of this section the reasonable costs of bringing the action, including reasonable attorney's fees, provided no attorney's fees shall be awarded any attorney or association of attorneys who receive public funds from any source for their services. Any action brought pursuant to this section shall be set for hearing as soon as practicable after the cause is at issue.

9. If in any action, including a class action, the court issues an order requiring a taxing authority to revise the tax rates as provided in this section or enjoins a taxing authority from the collection of a tax because of its failure to revise the rate of levy as provided in this section, any taxpayer paying his or her taxes when an improper rate is applied has erroneously paid his or her taxes in part, whether or not the taxes are paid under protest as provided in section 139.031, RSMo. The part of the taxes paid erroneously is the difference in the amount produced by the original levy and the amount produced by the revised levy. The township or county collector of taxes or the collector of taxes in any city shall refund the amount of the tax erroneously paid. The taxing authority refusing to revise the rate of levy as provided in this section shall make available to the collector all funds necessary to make refunds pursuant to this subsection. No taxpayer shall receive any interest on any money erroneously paid by him or her pursuant to this subsection. Effective in the 1994 tax year, nothing in this section shall be construed to require a taxing authority to refund any tax erroneously paid prior to or during the third tax year preceding the current tax year.

10. A taxing authority, including but not limited to a township, county collector, or collector of taxes, responsible for determining and collecting the amount of residential real property tax levied in its jurisdiction, shall report such amount of tax collected by December thirty-first of each year such property is assessed to the state tax commission. The state tax commission shall compile the tax data by county or taxing jurisdiction and submit a report to the general assembly no later than January thirty-first of the following year.

11. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2004, shall be invalid and void."; and

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FIFTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Great and marvelous are Your works, Lord God Almighty! Just and true are Your ways.

We endeavor, this day, to make the most of every opportunity presented to us. We recognize that, for many of our constituents, these are desperate times! We refuse to act thoughtlessly, but thoughtfully, endeavoring to find out, and do, what is impartial, purposeful and beneficial for all concerned.

Help us to not waste our time on useless work, mere busyness, or the empty pursuit of activity. When we slip into those moments, expose them that we might make the necessary corrections.

As seconds turn into minutes and minutes into hours, and the hours reach deep into the evening, grant us strength of character, strength of mind, and most certainly, strength of body, that we may endure.

Now may Your peace, which surpasses all understanding, guard our hearts and our minds throughout this day and the remainder of this week.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ryan Childress, Hunter Soule, Ashten Lorts, Dylan Grawe, Mark Lamb, Ashley Dowden, Ryan Olson, Tiffany Dattel, Grace Dockhorn, Logan Ball, Ajahni Johnston, Taylor Corkery and Hannah Thompson.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND Senate Bill No. 1066, Page 9, Section 168.021, Line 150, by adding after all of said line the following:

"168.133. 1. The school district shall ensure that a criminal background check is conducted on any person employed after January 1, 2005, authorized to have contact with pupils and prior to the individual having contact with any pupil. Such persons include, but are not limited to, administrators, teachers, aides, paraprofessionals, assistants, secretaries, custodians, cooks, and nurses. The school district shall also ensure that a criminal background check is conducted for school bus drivers. The district may allow such drivers to operate buses pending the result of the criminal background check. For bus drivers, the background check shall be conducted on drivers employed by the school district or employed by a pupil transportation company under contract with the school district.

2. In order to facilitate the criminal history background check on any person employed after January 1, 2005, the applicant shall submit two sets of fingerprints collected pursuant to standards determined by the Missouri highway patrol. One set of fingerprints shall be used by the highway patrol to search the criminal history repository and the family care safety registry pursuant to sections 210.900 to 210.936, RSMo, and the second set shall be forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for searching the federal criminal history files.

3. The applicant shall pay the fee for the state criminal history record information pursuant to section 43.530, RSMo, and sections 210.900 to 210.936, RSMo, and pay the appropriate fee determined by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the federal criminal history record when he or she applies for a position authorized to have contact with pupils pursuant to this section. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as prohibiting or otherwise restricting a school district from requiring additional background checks for such teachers employed by the school district.

8. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after January 1, 2005, shall be invalid and void."; and

- “Section 1. 1. As used in sections 1 to 3, the following words and phrases shall mean:
- (1) “Generic alternative”, another drug within the same drug class as the originally prescribed medication;

  - (4) “Pharmacy benefit manager” or “PBM”, a person or entity other than a pharmacy or pharmacist acting as an administrator in connection with pharmacy benefits;
  - (5) “Switch communication”, a communication from a health insurance carrier or PBM to a patient or the patient’s physician that recommends a patient’s medication be switched by the original prescribing health care professional to a different medication than the medication originally prescribed by the prescribing health care professional.

2. (1) Any time a patient's medication is recommended to be switched to a medication other than that originally prescribed by the prescribing health care professional, a switch communication shall be sent to:

(a) The patient providing information about why the switch is proposed and the patient's rights for refusing the recommended change in treatment; and

(b) The plan sponsor informing such sponsor of the cost, shown in currency form, of the recommended medication and the cost, shown in currency form, of the originally prescribed medication.

(2) A switch communication shall not be required for generic equivalent medication switches, unless the cost to the patient or plan sponsor is greater than the medication originally prescribed and dispensed.

(3) A switch communication shall be required for generic alternative medication switches.

3. Such switch communication shall:

(1) Clearly identify the originally prescribed medication and the medication to which it has been proposed that the patient should be switched;

(2) Explain any financial incentives that may be provided to, or have been offered to, the prescribing health care professional by the health carrier of PBM that could result in the switch to the different drug. In particular, cash or in-kind compensation payable to prescribers or their professional practices for switching patients from their currently prescribed medication to a different medication shall be disclosed to the patient as well as incentives that may be provided through general health care professional compensation programs used by the health carrier or PBM;

(3) Explain any financial incentive that a health carrier or PBM may have to encourage the switch to a different drug;

(4) Advise the patient of his or her rights to discuss the proposed change in treatment before such a switch takes place, including a discussion with the patient's prescribing health care professional, the filing of a grievance with the health carrier to prevent the switch if such a switch is based on a financial incentive and the filing of a grievance with the department of insurance, financial institutions, and professional registration; and

(5) Explain any cost sharing changes for which the patient is responsible.

4. Switch communications to health care providers shall disclose financial incentives or benefits that may be received by the health carrier or PBM.

5. Switch communications to health care providers shall direct the prescriber to advise the patient that is subjected to a switch by the prescriber of any financial incentives received by the prescriber or other inducements from the health carrier or PBM that may influence the decision to switch.

6. A copy of any switch communication sent to a patient shall also be sent to the prescribing health care professional.

7. Health insurance payers, including employers, shall be notified of medication switches among plan participants. Such notification shall include any financial incentive the health carrier or PBM may be utilizing to encourage or induce the switch. Information contained in the notification shall be in the aggregate and must not contain any personally identifiable information.

8. The department of insurance, financial institutions, and professional registration shall create one form for health carriers and pharmacy benefit managers to use in switch communications to patients, prescribing health care professionals, and health insurance payers including employers.

9. The department shall promulgate rules governing switch communications.

10. Such rules shall include, but not be limited to the following:

(1) Procedures for verifying the accuracy of any switch communications from health benefit plans and pharmacy benefit managers to ensure that such switch communications are truthful, accurate, and not misleading based on cost to the patient and plan sponsor, the product package labeling, medical compendia recognized by the MO HealthNet program for the drug utilization review program, and peer-reviewed medical literature, with appropriate referenced provided;

(2) A requirement that all switch communications bear a prominent legend on the first page that states: "This is not a product safety notice. This is a promotional announcement from your health care insurer or pharmacy benefit manager about one of your current prescribed medications.";

(3) A requirement that, if the switch communication contains information regarding a potential therapeutic substitution, such communication shall explain that medications in the same therapeutic class are associated with different risks and benefits and may work differently in different patients.

11. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2008, shall be invalid and void.

"163.172. 1. [In school year 1994-95 and thereafter until school year 2006-07, the minimum teacher's salary shall be eighteen thousand dollars. Beginning in school year 2006-07, the minimum teacher's salary shall be twenty-two thousand dollars; in school year 2007-08, the minimum teacher's salary shall be twenty-three thousand dollars; in school year 2008-09, the minimum teacher's salary shall be twenty-four thousand dollars; in school year 2009-10 and thereafter, the minimum teacher's salary shall be twenty-five thousand dollars. Beginning in the school year 1996-97 until school year 2006-07, for any full-time teacher with a master's degree and at least ten years' teaching experience in a public school or combination of public schools, the minimum salary shall be twenty-four thousand dollars. 2. Beginning with the budget requests for fiscal year 1991,] As used in this section, the following terms mean:

(1) "Full-time", a teacher working under school district contract or for a state school for the severely handicapped, state school for the deaf, or state school for the blind for all school days and hours eligible for attendance of students;

(2) "Minimum salary supplement", the difference between the school district's salary schedule and the minimum salary set out in subdivision (1) of subsection 4 of this section, based on years of teaching experience and the most advanced academic degree held by the teacher;

(3) "Regular school term", a minimum of one hundred seventy-four days and one thousand forty-four hours of pupil attendance possible for students;

(4) "Salary", the salary amount which appears on the teacher's contract for the regular school term. Such term does not include supplements for extra duties, summer school, career ladder, or extensions of the contract year. The minimum salary supplement shall be included in the calculation of "final average salary" under subdivision (8) of section 169.010, RSMo;

(5) "Teacher", all certificated school district personnel who are eligible for tenure and are paid pursuant to the school district teacher salary schedule, including but not limited to teachers, librarians, counselors, and career education instructors.

2. Beginning with the 2008-2009 school year, the general assembly shall make an annual appropriation to the minimum salary fund for teachers established in subsection 3 of this section for the purpose of paying public school teacher minimum salary supplements in those districts meeting the qualifications established in subsection 4 of this section. A participating school district shall be responsible only for the contracted amount of a teacher's salary. If the appropriation of the general assembly is insufficient to pay the total cost of all salary supplements, the minimum salary amounts of subsection 4 of this section shall be prorated until the amount appropriated is sufficient to make the payments to all participating school districts.

3. There is hereby created in the state treasury the "Minimum Salary Fund for Teachers" to fund the minimum teacher salaries provided for in this section. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund. In accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180, RSMo, the state treasurer may approve disbursements. Upon appropriation, money in the fund shall be used solely for the administration of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund. The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund.

4. To make application and qualify to begin receiving funds under subsection 1 of this section, a school district shall:

(1) Regardless of where a teacher is placed on a local salary schedule, recognize all years of teacher experience, including but not limited to employment in out-of-state schools, private schools, and public charter schools:

Years of Experience	Bachelor's	Master's
1-3	$31,000	$33,000
4-6	$32,500	$34,500
7-9	$34,000	$36,000
10-12	$35,500	$37,500
13-15	$37,000	$39,000
16-18	$38,500	$40,500

25-27	$43,000	$45,000
28+	$44,500	$46,500

(2) Be subject to a local effort requirement. The local effort shall be calculated based on the percentage of expenditures from the teachers and incidental funds attributable to the base salary, retirement, and health care costs of the teachers covered under the minimum salary supplement program. A district may vary from its local effort percentage based on its combined unrestricted fund balance as of June thirtieth of the previous year, as follows:

Fund Balance	Variance Allowed
75% or more	1%
74-50%	1.5%
50-30%	2%
30-20%	2.5%
20-15%	3%
15-10%	4%
Less than 10%	5%

The department shall deduct, in the next fiscal year, a corresponding dollar amount of the minimum salary supplement for a district that varies more than the allowable percentage from its local effort percentage.

5. Future increases in minimum salaries established under subsection 4 of this section shall be contingent upon decreases in total state payments to all districts made under subsection 4 of this section. The second fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the state cost of funding the minimum salary program is eighty-five percent or less of the full funding cost for the first school year of the state funding of minimum salaries for teachers under subsection 4 of this section, the value of the base level of minimum salary, represented by the one-to-three year bracket amount, shall be increased by five hundred dollars.

Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2008, shall be invalid and void."; and

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill Nos. 2040 & 2430, Section 168.710, Page 36, Line 1, to Page 38, Line 87, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"168.710. 1. Beginning in fiscal year 2010 and ending in fiscal year 2015, the general assembly shall make an annual appropriation of twenty million dollars to be distributed to school districts for a pilot project to recognize excellence in performance by instructional personnel and school-based administrators in participating districts.

2. In order to be eligible for funding under this section, a school district board shall adopt an excellence award program plan that provides for assessment and an award based on the performance of teachers and students assigned to schools in participating districts under subsection 3 of this section. All instructional personnel and school-based administrators, as defined by the department through rule, are eligible to receive excellence awards, with the exception of substitute teachers. In order to receive an excellence award under this section, instructional personnel shall be assessed on the performance of students assigned to their classrooms or within their academic sphere of responsibility. The district school board may not require instructional personnel or school-based administrators to apply for an award, or make any presentation, in order to be assessed for or receive an excellence award. The department of elementary and secondary education may not distribute any portion of prorated funding to a district, if the district chooses not to adopt an excellence award program plan under this section. Undistributed funds shall revert to the fund from which the appropriation was made.

3. The district's award plan shall be based on the elements listed below. No district shall be permitted to continue to participate unless it submits its external building evaluation data under opportunity 2 annually to the joint committee on education and annually makes the data available to the school community in conjunction with the information required for annual performance reports. Opportunity 1 shall be an individual award based on the teacher's performance; opportunities 2, 3, and 4 shall be awarded to all teachers assigned to the building.

(1) Opportunity 1, teacher-controlled variables. An individual teacher may earn two and five-tenths percent of his or her base salary by:

(a) Submitting a portfolio, which shall include but not be limited to, grade level expectations, a curriculum outline for the year, daily lesson plans, past student work, current student work, discipline plan, and notes for substitute teachers; and

(b) Achieving a ninety-five percent personal attendance rate.

(2) Opportunity 2, ground level expectations. Teachers assigned to the building may earn:

(a) Two and five-tenths percent of their base salaries if the building:

a. Conducts an external evaluation of the building's performance with anonymous surveys of parents, teachers, administrators and nonteaching staff, and students, which includes:

i. If a high school building, the creation of a student evaluation council composed of no more than ten percent of the senior class selected at the beginning of the second semester of the senior year from students who have a career grade point average of at least three points on a four-point scale or equivalent, to participate in three meetings with the superintendent, building administrator, and selected faculty to conduct exit interviews and anonymous questionnaires and to be available for a followup on academic preparation and job readiness the year after graduation; or

ii. If not a high school building, the implementation of an age-appropriate exit-year interview to gather information on school climate and a survey with anonymous questionnaires taken from a random sample of the building's parents, teachers, staff, and students; and

b. Increases either student attendance or graduation rate by two percentage points over the last year's rate; or

(b) One percent of their base salaries by maintaining at least ninety-three percent student attendance and a ninety percent graduation rate.

(3) Opportunity 3, Missouri assessment program scores. Teachers assigned to the building may earn:

(a) Two and five-tenths percent of their base salaries by increasing the scores on the building's performance index status measure for any two of the mathematics, communication arts, or science assessments by one performance level over the last year; or

(b) One percent of their base salaries by:

a. Raising one of the three assessments status measures to the high 1 or high 2 level; or

b. Maintaining two out of three assessment status measures at the high 1 or high 2 level.

(4) Opportunity 4, building progress report. Teachers assigned to the building may earn:

(a) Two and five-tenths percent of their base salaries by scoring "met" on two accreditation performance indicators that had been scored "not met" last year's annual performance report; or

(b) One percent of their base salaries by scoring "met" on one accreditation performance indicator that was scored "not met" last year or maintaining accreditation with at least twelve of the fourteen performance criteria met for a building with high school grades or six of seven for elementary, middle school or junior high school buildings.

4. In order for a district to develop a plan to participate in the excellence award program, a majority vote of the certificated teachers of the district shall be required. The department shall create a web-based ballot that permits a district's certificated teachers to vote using a method that requires a unique identifier or other means to ensure validity. Voting shall be a confidential process. The department shall report the district's results to the district.

5. Each district school board shall inform its employees of the criteria and procedures associated with the excellence award program plan.

6. Each person who qualifies for an award is required to be an employee of the school district in the fiscal year during which award funds are distributed.

7. Nothing in this section shall be construed to be an element of any school district salary schedule as referred to in subdivision (2) of section 168.110.

8. The joint committee on education shall review the impact of the excellence award program during fiscal year 2012 and again in fiscal year 2014 and shall make recommendations about the continuation of the program for legislative action prior to the scheduled end of the program under subsection 9 of this section. In its review, the joint committee shall consider information from all stakeholders and may issue a request for proposals from any organization without an interest in the matter to conduct research that it deems necessary.

9. Pursuant to section 23.253, RSMo, of the Missouri Sunset Act:

(1) The provisions of the new program authorized under this section shall automatically sunset six years after the effective date of this section unless reauthorized by an act of the general assembly; and

(3) This section shall terminate on September first of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the program authorized under this section is sunset.

10. The commissioner shall certify qualifying plans to the governor, the president of the senate, and the speaker of the house of representatives by February fifteenth of each year;

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NOS. 43 & 46

WHEREAS, The Boeing Company Integrated Defense Systems (Boeing), based in St. Louis, Missouri, has been building and maintaining refueling tankers for the United States Air Force (USAF) for 50 years and has more experience building tankers than any other company in the world; and

WHEREAS, Boeing has proposed the KC-767 as a replacement for the KC-135 Stratotanker, an American-made tanker that has been in use since 1958; and

WHEREAS, the KC-767 meets or exceeds all USAF requirements, including range and fuel offload capabilities, mission flexibility for carrying patients, passengers, and material; and

WHEREAS, the KC-767 will interoperate with 99% of USAF's existing equipment, saving an estimated $4 billion in lifecycle costs, and will operate from existing infrastructure throughout the world saving the expense of costly runway, tarmac, and hangar expansion required for a larger plane; and

WHEREAS, the KC-767 would have created or sustained 44,000 jobs in 40 states with 300 suppliers; and

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2008, the USAF announced the selection of European Aeronautic Defence and Space Company (EADS), a company based in France, and its partner Northrop Grumman Corporation, for a contract to replace aerial refueling tankers, a contract that could reach in excess of $100 billion in value; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Government has a WTO lawsuit pending against EADS regarding illegal subsidies that have caused great harm to U.S. Industry; and

WHEREAS, EADS routinely sells military products and technology to countries on the U.S. Embargo list; and

WHEREAS, the EADS tanker is wasteful and bad for the environment as it burns 24% more fuel and pumps 30% greater emissions into our environment than the KC-767; and

WHEREAS, EADS and Northrop Grumman have never jointly built a tanker aircraft or delivered an air-to-air refueling boom, while Boeing has built and upgraded over 2,000 operational tankers and delivered over 1,800 air-to-air refueling booms; and

WHEREAS, given the current state of the U.S. economy, taxpayer dollars should not be used to fund the economic growth of European countries, while America loses 44,000 quality jobs associated with the KC-767; and

WHEREAS, relying on a foreign supplier of military equipment is unwise and not in the national security interest of the country:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Air Force to reconsider its decision to replace the KC-135 refueling tanker with a tanker supplied by a foreign company that is substantially built in foreign countries; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly strongly urges the President of the United States and Congress to immediately and vigorously investigate the proposed outsourcing of taxpayer-funded jobs, and its impact on the U.S. economy and the procurement process that made possible this transfer of billions of dollars to foreign workers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly urge the President of the United States and Congress to investigate and thoroughly review the benefits, costs, and national security risks associated with contracting for the design and construction of high-technology military equipment and systems in and by foreign nations which may not always share U.S. interests, objectives, and missions; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the United States Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of the Air Force, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Mr. Speaker: Your Special Committee on Job Creation and Economic Development, to which was referred SB 1073, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass by Consent, and pursuant to Rule 25(21)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FIFTY-FIRST DAY, THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

"To you our praise is due, O God.

You care for the earth, give it water....

You drench its furrows,
You level it, soften it with showers,
You bless its growth."
(Psalm 65:1, 10 and 11)

Almighty God, we praise and thank You for the blessing of rainfall and for every blessing You shower upon us.

We pray for the safety of those where too much rain has fallen and where flood waters have invaded. We pray especially for the safety of those who have had to leave their homes. By Your inspiration, may others step forward to help them.

And we pray, Almighty God, for the safety of those whose lives are threatened by artillery and bullets raining down or roadside and terrorist bombs springing up. May the leaders of our nation and of all the nations learn how to end all wars.

O Lord, as You bless the land with rain again this morning, bless us with Your grace that we may honor You with the integrity of our work today.

To You be blessing and glory, forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Vanna Barton, Adam Milan, Tanner Lorenz and Toni Wilkins.

The Journal of the fiftieth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 15

WHEREAS, the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 was signed into law with the goal to improve highway safety by ensuring that drivers of large trucks and buses are qualified to operate those vehicles and to remove unsafe and unqualified drivers from the highways; and

WHEREAS, the federal Act retained a State's right to issue a driver's license, but established minimum national standards which States must meet when licensing commercial motor vehicle drivers; and

WHEREAS, the federal Act corrected the situation that existed prior to 1986 by making it illegal to hold more than one license and by requiring States to adopt testing and licensing standards for truck and bus drivers to check a person's ability to operate the type of vehicle the driver plans to operate; and

WHEREAS, since April 1, 1992, drivers have been required to have a commercial driver's license (CDL) in order to drive a commercial motor vehicle. The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) issued standards for testing and licensing of commercial motor vehicle drivers which require States to issue CDLs to their commercial motor vehicle drivers only after the driver passes knowledge and skills tests administered by the State related to the type of vehicle to be operated; and

WHEREAS, drivers need CDLs if they are in interstate, intrastate, or foreign commerce and drive a vehicle that meets the federal definition of a commercial motor vehicle; and

WHEREAS, States develop their own tests which must be at least as stringent as the federal standards; and

WHEREAS, this restriction does not prohibit States from allowing a person 19 years of age to qualify for a CDL, because it is limited to intrastate operation only. Such a restriction prohibits a person between the ages of 19 and 21 with a CDL from the interstate operation of a commercial motor vehicle; and

WHEREAS, the establishment of a controlled pilot program by the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) lowering the federal minimum age for commercial motor vehicle drivers in interstate commerce from 21 to 19, which would include behind the wheel training, mentoring, and an evaluation component, would be the first step in advancing the program while still promoting highway safety; and

WHEREAS, a FMCSA controlled pilot program for 19 to 21 year-olds has the potential of relieving a severe commercial motor vehicle driver shortage in the States and Nation, and creating excellent career opportunities:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration to establish a controlled pilot program to evaluate the potential of lowering the age requirements for interstate commercial motor carrier drivers from 21 to 19 years of age; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the Administrator of the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration, John H. Hill, and each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Transportation, to which was referred HB 1482 and HB 1299, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that the House Committee Substitute Do Pass, and pursuant to Rule 25(21)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FIFTY-SECOND DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 14, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, You are gracious and merciful, compassionate and self-sufficient. You are able to handle any situation that threatens our well being. You care for us.

We are instructed in Your Word that if we lack wisdom, to ask of You and You would give it generously and graciously. So we ask. May, throughout this week, wisdom be as a close relative and common sense our closest companion. Help us to hear good instruction and, in wisdom, not refuse or neglect it.

Secure our paths, as we walk in integrity before all and may our ways not be misrepresented.

Now, Lord God, may You Lord show us kindness as we show kindness to others. May You grant that each of us find rest in our decisions and trust that our decisions will help provide rest to those we serve. May Your grace abide with us all.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fifty-first day was approved as corrected.

"137.115. 1. All other laws to the contrary notwithstanding, the assessor or the assessor's deputies in all counties of this state including the city of St. Louis shall annually make a list of all real and tangible personal property taxable in the assessor's city, county, town or district. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 of this section and section 137.078, the assessor shall annually assess all personal property at thirty-three and one-third percent of its true value in money as of January first of each calendar year. The assessor shall annually assess all real property, including any new construction and improvements to real property, and possessor interests in real property at the percent of its true value in money set in subsection 5 of this section. The true value in money of any possessor interest in real property in subclass (3), where such real property is on or adjacent to a commercial airport having a FAR Part 139 certification and owned by a political subdivision, shall be the otherwise applicable true value in money of any such possessor interest in real property, less the total dollar amount of costs paid by a party, other than the political subdivision, towards any new construction or improvements on such real property and which are included in the above-mentioned possessor interest, regardless of the year in which such costs were incurred or whether such costs were considered in any prior year. The assessor shall annually assess all real property in the following manner: new assessed values shall be determined as of January first of each odd-numbered year and shall be entered in the assessor's books; those same assessed values shall apply in the following even-numbered year, except for new construction and property improvements which shall be valued as though they had been completed as of January first of the preceding odd-numbered year. The assessor may call at the office, place of doing business, or residence of each person required by this chapter to list property, and require the person to make a correct statement of all taxable tangible personal property owned by the person or under his or her care, charge or management, taxable in the county. On or before January first of each even-numbered year, the assessor shall prepare and submit a two-year assessment maintenance plan to the county governing body and the state tax commission for their respective approval or modification. The county governing body shall approve and forward such plan or its alternative to the plan to the state tax commission by February first. If the county governing body fails to forward the plan or its alternative to the plan to the state tax commission by February first, the assessor's plan shall be considered approved by the county governing body. If the state tax commission fails to approve a plan and if the state tax commission and the assessor and the governing body of the county involved are unable to resolve the differences, in order to receive state cost-share funds outlined in section 137.750, the county or the assessor shall petition the administrative hearing commission, by May first, to decide all matters in dispute regarding the assessment maintenance plan. Upon agreement of the parties, the matter may be stayed while the parties proceed with mediation or arbitration upon terms agreed to by the parties. The final decision of the administrative hearing commission shall be subject to judicial review in the circuit court of the county involved. In the event a valuation of subclass (1) real property within any county with a charter form of government, or within a city not within a county, is made by a computer, computer-assisted method or a computer program, the burden of proof, supported by clear, convincing and cogent evidence to sustain such valuation, shall be on the assessor at any hearing or appeal. In any such county, unless the assessor proves otherwise, there shall be a presumption that the assessment was made by a computer, computer-assisted method or a computer program. Such evidence shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) The findings of the assessor based on an appraisal of the property by generally accepted appraisal techniques; and

(2) The purchase prices from sales of at least three comparable properties and the address or location thereof. As used in this [paragraph] subdivision, the word "comparable" means that:

(a) Such sale was closed at a date relevant to the property valuation; and

(b) Such properties are not more than one mile from the site of the disputed property, except where no similar properties exist within one mile of the disputed property, the nearest comparable property shall be used. Such property shall be within five hundred square feet in size of the disputed property, and resemble the disputed property in age, floor plan, number of rooms, and other relevant characteristics.

2. Assessors in each county of this state and the city of St. Louis may send personal property assessment forms through the mail.

3. The following items of personal property shall each constitute separate subclasses of tangible personal property and shall be assessed and valued for the purposes of taxation at the following percentages of their true value in money:

(1) Grain and other agricultural crops in an unmanufactured condition, one-half of one percent;

(2) Livestock, twelve percent;

(3) Farm machinery, twelve percent;

(4) Motor vehicles which are eligible for registration as and are registered as historic motor vehicles pursuant to section 301.131, RSMo, and aircraft which are at least twenty-five years old and which are used solely for noncommercial purposes and are operated less than fifty hours per year or aircraft that are home built from a kit, five percent;

(5) Poultry, twelve percent; and

(6) Tools and equipment used for pollution control and tools and equipment used in retooling for the purpose of introducing new product lines or used for making improvements to existing products by any company which is located in a state enterprise zone and which is identified by any standard industrial classification number cited in subdivision (6) of section 135.200, RSMo, twenty-five percent.

4. The person listing the property shall enter a true and correct statement of the property, in a printed blank prepared for that purpose. The statement, after being filled out, shall be signed and either affirmed or sworn to as provided in section 137.155. The list shall then be delivered to the assessor.

5. All subclasses of real property, as such subclasses are established in section 4(b) of article X of the Missouri Constitution and defined in section 137.016, shall be assessed at the following percentages of true value:

(1) For real property in subclass (1), nineteen percent;

(2) For real property in subclass (2), twelve percent; and

(3) For real property in subclass (3), thirty-two percent.

6. Manufactured homes, as defined in section 700.010, RSMo, which are actually used as dwelling units shall be assessed at the same percentage of true value as residential real property for the purpose of taxation. The percentage of assessment of true value for such manufactured homes shall be the same as for residential real property. If the county collector cannot identify or find the manufactured home when attempting to attach the manufactured home for payment of taxes owed by the manufactured home owner, the county collector may request the county commission to have the manufactured home removed from the tax books, and such request shall be granted within thirty days after the request is made; however, the removal from the tax books does not remove the tax lien on the manufactured home if it is later identified or found. A manufactured home located in a manufactured home rental park, rental community or on real estate not owned by the manufactured home owner shall be considered personal property. A manufactured home located on real estate owned by the manufactured home owner may be considered real property.

7. Each manufactured home assessed shall be considered a parcel for the purpose of reimbursement pursuant to section 137.750, unless the manufactured home has been converted to real property in compliance with section 700.111, RSMo, and assessed as a realty improvement to the existing real estate parcel.

8. Any amount of tax due and owing based on the assessment of a manufactured home shall be included on the personal property tax statement of the manufactured home owner unless the manufactured home has been converted to real property in compliance with section 700.111, RSMo, in which case the amount of tax due and owing on the assessment of the manufactured home as a realty improvement to the existing real estate parcel shall be included on the real property tax statement of the real estate owner.

9. The assessor of each county and each city not within a county shall use the trade-in value published in the October issue of the National Automobile Dealers' Association Official Used Car Guide, or its successor publication, as the recommended guide of information for determining the true value of motor vehicles described in such publication. In the absence of a listing for a particular motor vehicle in such publication, the assessor shall use such information or publications which in the assessor's judgment will fairly estimate the true value in money of the motor vehicle.

10. Before the assessor may increase the assessed valuation of any parcel of subclass (1) real property by more than fifteen percent since the last assessment, excluding increases due to new construction or improvements, the assessor shall conduct a physical inspection of such property.

11. If a physical inspection is required, pursuant to subsection 10 of this section, the assessor shall notify the property owner of that fact in writing and shall provide the owner clear written notice of the owner's rights relating to the physical inspection. If a physical inspection is required, the property owner may request that an interior inspection be performed during the physical inspection. The owner shall have no less than thirty days to notify the assessor of a request for an interior physical inspection.

12. A physical inspection, as required by subsection 10 of this section, shall include, but not be limited to, an on-site personal observation and review of all exterior portions of the land and any buildings and improvements to which the inspector has or may reasonably and lawfully gain external access, and shall include an observation and review of the interior of any buildings or improvements on the property upon the timely request of the owner pursuant to subsection 11 of this section. Mere observation of the property via a "drive-by inspection" or the like shall not be considered sufficient to constitute a physical inspection as required by this section.

13. The provisions of subsections 11 and 12 of this section shall only apply in any county with a charter form of government with more than one million inhabitants.

14. A county or city collector may accept credit cards as proper form of payment of outstanding property tax or license due. No county or city collector may charge surcharge for payment by credit card which exceeds the fee or surcharge charged by the credit card bank, processor, or issuer for its service. A county or city collector may accept payment by electronic transfers of funds in payment of any tax or license and charge the person making such payment a fee equal to the fee charged the county by the bank, processor, or issuer of such electronic payment.

15. Any county or city not within a county in this state may, by an affirmative vote of the governing body of such county, opt out of the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100, RSMo, as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session and section 137.073 as modified by [this act] house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, for the next year of the general reassessment, prior to January first of any year. No county or city not within a county shall exercise this opt-out provision after implementing the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100, RSMo, as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session and section 137.073 as modified by [this act] house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, in a year of general reassessment. For the purposes of applying the provisions of this subsection, a political subdivision contained within two or more counties where at least one of such counties has opted out and at least one of such counties has not opted out shall calculate a single tax rate as in effect prior to the enactment of house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session. A governing body of a city not within a county or a county that has opted out under the provisions of this subsection may choose to implement the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100, RSMo, as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session, and section 137.073 as modified by [this act] house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, for the next year of general reassessment, by an affirmative vote of the governing body prior to December thirty-first of any year.

16. The governing body of any city of the third classification with more than twenty-six thousand three hundred but fewer than twenty-six thousand seven hundred inhabitants located in any county that has exercised its authority to opt out under subsection 15 of this section may levy separate and differing tax rates for real and personal property only if such city bills and collects its own property taxes or satisfies the entire cost of the billing and collection of such separate and differing tax rates. Such separate and differing rates shall not exceed such city's tax rate ceiling.

137.1018. 1. The commission shall ascertain the statewide average rate of property taxes levied the preceding year, based upon the total assessed valuation of the railroad and street railway companies and the total property taxes levied upon the railroad and street railway companies. It shall determine total property taxes levied from reports prescribed by the commission from the railroad and street railway companies. Total taxes levied shall not include revenues from the surtax on subclass three real property.

2. The commission shall report its determination of average property tax rate for the preceding year, together with the taxable distributable assessed valuation of each freight line company for the current year to the director no later than October first of each year.

3. Taxes on property of such freight line companies shall be collected at the state level by the director on behalf of the counties and other local public taxing entities and shall be distributed in accordance with sections 137.1021 and 137.1024. The director shall tax such property based upon the distributable assessed valuation attributable to Missouri of each freight line company, using the average tax rate for the preceding year of the railroad and street railway companies certified by the commission. Such tax shall be due and payable on or before December thirty-first of the year levied and, if it becomes delinquent, shall be subject to a penalty equal to that specified in section 140.100, RSMo.

4. (1) As used in this subsection, the following terms mean:

(a) "Eligible expenses", expenses incurred in this state to manufacture, maintain, or improve a freight line company's qualified rolling stock;

(b) "Qualified rolling stock", any freight, stock, refrigerator, or other railcars subject to the tax levied under this section.

(2) For all taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009, a freight line company shall be allowed a credit against the tax levied under this section for the applicable tax year. The tax credit amount shall be equal to the amount of eligible expenses incurred during the calendar year immediately preceding the tax year for which the credit under this section is claimed. The amount of the tax credit issued shall not exceed the freight line company's liability for the tax levied under this section for the tax year for which the credit is claimed.

(3) A freight line company may apply for the credit by submitting to the commission an application in the form prescribed by the state tax commission.

(4) The state shall reimburse, on an annual basis, any political subdivision of this state for any decrease in revenue due to the provisions of this section."; and

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 40.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 40

WHEREAS, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is charged with protecting the public from unreasonable risks of serious injury or death from more than 15,000 types of consumer products under the agency's jurisdiction. The CPSC has rated furniture tip-overs as number 3 of the top 5 hidden home hazards; and

WHEREAS, according to the CPSC, each year an estimated 3,000 children ages 5 and younger nationwide go to the emergency room with injuries caused by television sets falling or tipping over, and at least 100 people - mostly young children - have been killed since 2000 by falling televisions or other furniture; and

WHEREAS, in September of 2006, the CPSC warned parents and caregivers about the dangers of television sets and heavy furniture tipping over and killing young children. From 2000 to 2005, CPSC had reports of 36 television tip-over deaths and 65 furniture tip-over deaths. More than 80% of all these deaths involved young children; and

WHEREAS, the number of deaths due to furniture tip-overs is on the rise. In 2006, the CPSC reported 31 deaths from improperly secured furniture and televisions, with tip-overs resulting in an average of 22 deaths per year; and

WHEREAS, very heavy furniture items can potentially cause crush injuries, but more commonly when a large dresser, shelf, or home entertainment center tips, the resulting injury is often suffocation. Children become pinned between the tipping furniture and the bed or floor, unable to breathe or call for help, making it a nearly silent event; and

WHEREAS, the danger of tipping comes when a child tries to climb the front of a furniture piece. In these accidents, the child attempts to reach the top of the furniture piece by using a bottom drawer or shelf like a step. The weight of the furniture and the child pulling down in the front causes the whole piece to tilt forward. Heavy items on top of the furniture can fall on the child or the furniture piece itself can fall forward onto the child; and

WHEREAS, the committee of the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) met in March 2007 to discuss and revise a proposed standard for testing tipping on dressers, armoires, and drawer chests. However, the ASTM can only establish voluntary standards and the proposed revised standard does not include other types of furniture such as entertainment centers, television stands, or any piece of furniture 30 inches in height or less; and

WHEREAS, while the ASTM, furniture executives, and consumer safety advocates are working together to form voluntary safety standards to address this issue, the increase in tipping furniture deaths and injuries to children demands mandatory regulation regarding labeling, furniture standards, and the use of anchoring devices:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress and the Consumer Product Safety Commission to immediately enact regulations that:

- (1) Strengthen incentives for use of the ASTM International's voluntary furniture safety standard for furniture tip-over hazards;
- (2) Strengthen incentives for use of warning labels on tip-over risks to be posted on all assembled and ready-to-assemble furniture and major appliances;
- (3) Strengthen incentives for all furniture and major appliances with a tip-over risk to come with anchoring devices that can be used to safely secure them to walls; and
- (4) Promote the dissemination of educational material and information to the public regarding furniture tip-over dangers and ease of prevention through the use of safety devices; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Nancy A. Nord, the Acting Chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission and each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

The following member's presence was noted: Bland.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FIFTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Gene H. Williams, The Scruggs Memorial, Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, St. Louis, Missouri.

Almighty and everlasting God, who has made of one blood all nations of men to dwell together on all the face of the Earth. Even in our differences as we call on You by various names, help us to recognize You Lord as the One True and Living God. Use our differences as advantages to better living.

As this body of elected officials from all over the State of Missouri have gathered in this place, shower them with Your Spirit so that the business of leading the government may be accomplished according to Thy perfect will.

Protect our whole country, guard our homes and sanctify our lives. So guide our hearts, we pray Thee, so we may use and not misuse the liberty You have given us.

Lord of the nations, continue to tear down the walls of partition between races, classes and faiths so that east and west, north and south, may labor together to bring the kingdom of righteousness and peace on the Earth.

We ask this all in the name of our Supreme God. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Anna Duban, Jasmin Hudson, Justin Witte, Nolan Walsh, Sydnei Edward, Devin Johnson, Sam Lincoln, Lucas Houchin, Jaden Barnes, Lauren Eby, Caroline Gleason, Miranda Harrison, Shelby Heckert, Amelia Moore, Caroline Elizabeth Kasten and Drew Anna Kasten.

"137.115. 1. All other laws to the contrary notwithstanding, the assessor or the assessor's deputies in all counties of this state including the city of St. Louis shall annually make a list of all real and tangible personal property taxable in the assessor's city, county, town or district. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 of this section and section 137.078, the assessor shall annually assess all personal property at thirty-three and one-third percent of its true value in money as of January first of each calendar year. The assessor shall annually assess all real property, including any new construction and improvements to real property, and possessor interests in real property at the percent of its true value in money set in subsection 5 of this section. The true value in money of any possessor interest in real property in subclass (3), where such real property is on or lies within the ultimate airport boundary as shown by a federal airport layout plan, as defined by 14 CFR 151.5 of a commercial airport having a FAR Part 139 certification and owned by a political subdivision, shall be the otherwise applicable true value in money of any such possessor interest in real property, less the total dollar amount of costs paid by a party, other than the political subdivision, towards any new construction or improvements on such real property and which are included in the above-mentioned possessor interest, regardless of the year in which such costs were incurred or whether such costs were considered in any prior year. The assessor shall annually assess all real property in the following manner: new assessed values shall be determined as of January first of each odd-numbered year and shall be entered in the assessor's books; those same assessed values shall apply in the following even-numbered year, except for new construction and property improvements which shall be valued as though they had been completed as of January first of the preceding odd-numbered year. The assessor may call at the office, place of doing business, or residence of each person required by this chapter to list property, and require the person to make a correct statement of all taxable tangible personal property owned by the person or under his or her care, charge or management, taxable in the county. On or before January first of each even-numbered year, the assessor shall prepare and submit a two-year assessment maintenance plan to the county governing body and the state tax commission for their respective approval or modification. The county governing body shall approve and forward such plan or its alternative to the plan to the state tax commission by February first. If the county governing body fails to forward the plan or its alternative to the plan to the state tax commission by February first, the assessor's plan shall be considered approved by the county governing body. If the state tax commission fails to approve a plan and if the state tax commission and the assessor and the governing body of the county involved are unable to resolve the differences, in order to receive state cost-share funds outlined in section 137.750, the county or the assessor shall petition the administrative hearing commission, by May first, to decide all matters in dispute regarding the assessment maintenance plan. Upon agreement of the parties, the matter may be stayed while the parties proceed with mediation or arbitration upon terms agreed to by the parties. The final decision of the administrative hearing commission shall be subject to judicial review in the circuit court of the county involved. In the event a valuation of subclass (1) real property within any county with a charter form of government, or within a city not within a county, is made by a computer, computer-assisted method or a computer program, the burden of proof, supported by clear, convincing and cogent evidence to sustain such valuation, shall be on the assessor at any hearing or appeal. In any such county, unless the assessor proves otherwise, there shall be a presumption that the assessment was made by a computer, computer-assisted method or a computer program. Such evidence shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) The findings of the assessor based on an appraisal of the property by generally accepted appraisal techniques; and

(2) The purchase prices from sales of at least three comparable properties and the address or location thereof. As used in this [paragraph] subdivision, the word "comparable" means that:

(a) Such sale was closed at a date relevant to the property valuation; and

(b) Such properties are not more than one mile from the site of the disputed property, except where no similar properties exist within one mile of the disputed property, the nearest comparable property shall be used. Such property shall be within five hundred square feet in size of the disputed property, and resemble the disputed property in age, floor plan, number of rooms, and other relevant characteristics.

2. Assessors in each county of this state and the city of St. Louis may send personal property assessment forms through the mail.

3. The following items of personal property shall each constitute separate subclasses of tangible personal property and shall be assessed and valued for the purposes of taxation at the following percentages of their true value in money:

(1) Grain and other agricultural crops in an unmanufactured condition, one-half of one percent;

(2) Livestock, twelve percent;

(3) Farm machinery, twelve percent;

(4) Motor vehicles which are eligible for registration as and are registered as historic motor vehicles pursuant to section 301.131, RSMo, and aircraft which are at least twenty-five years old and which are used solely for noncommercial purposes and are operated less than fifty hours per year or aircraft that are home built from a kit, five percent;

(5) Poultry, twelve percent; and

(6) Tools and equipment used for pollution control and tools and equipment used in retooling for the purpose of introducing new product lines or used for making improvements to existing products by any company which is located in a state enterprise zone and which is identified by any standard industrial classification number cited in subdivision (6) of section 135.200, RSMo, twenty-five percent.

4. The person listing the property shall enter a true and correct statement of the property, in a printed blank prepared for that purpose. The statement, after being filled out, shall be signed and either affirmed or sworn to as provided in section 137.155. The list shall then be delivered to the assessor.

5. All subclasses of real property, as such subclasses are established in section 4(b) of article X of the Missouri Constitution and defined in section 137.016, shall be assessed at the following percentages of true value:

(1) For real property in subclass (1), nineteen percent;

(2) For real property in subclass (2), twelve percent; and

(3) For real property in subclass (3), thirty-two percent.

6. Manufactured homes, as defined in section 700.010, RSMo, which are actually used as dwelling units shall be assessed at the same percentage of true value as residential real property for the purpose of taxation. The percentage of assessment of true value for such manufactured homes shall be the same as for residential real property. If the county collector cannot identify or find the manufactured home when attempting to attach the manufactured home for payment of taxes owed by the manufactured home owner, the county collector may request the county commission to have the manufactured home removed from the tax books, and such request shall be granted within thirty days after the request is made; however, the removal from the tax books does not remove the tax lien on the manufactured home if it is later identified or found. A manufactured home located in a manufactured home rental park, rental community or on real estate not owned by the manufactured home owner shall be considered personal property. A manufactured home located on real estate owned by the manufactured home owner may be considered real property.

7. Each manufactured home assessed shall be considered a parcel for the purpose of reimbursement pursuant to section 137.750, unless the manufactured home has been converted to real property in compliance with section 700.111, RSMo, and assessed as a realty improvement to the existing real estate parcel.

8. Any amount of tax due and owing based on the assessment of a manufactured home shall be included on the personal property tax statement of the manufactured home owner unless the manufactured home has been converted to real property in compliance with section 700.111, RSMo, in which case the amount of tax due and owing on the assessment of the manufactured home as a realty improvement to the existing real estate parcel shall be included on the real property tax statement of the real estate owner.

9. The assessor of each county and each city not within a county shall use the trade-in value published in the October issue of the National Automobile Dealers' Association Official Used Car Guide, or its successor publication, as the recommended guide of information for determining the true value of motor vehicles described in such publication. In the absence of a listing for a particular motor vehicle in such publication, the assessor shall use such information or publications which in the assessor's judgment will fairly estimate the true value in money of the motor vehicle.

10. Before the assessor may increase the assessed valuation of any parcel of subclass (1) real property by more than fifteen percent since the last assessment, excluding increases due to new construction or improvements, the assessor shall conduct a physical inspection of such property.

11. If a physical inspection is required, pursuant to subsection 10 of this section, the assessor shall notify the property owner of that fact in writing and shall provide the owner clear written notice of the owner's rights relating to the physical inspection. If a physical inspection is required, the property owner may request that an interior inspection be performed during the physical inspection. The owner shall have no less than thirty days to notify the assessor of a request for an interior physical inspection.

12. A physical inspection, as required by subsection 10 of this section, shall include, but not be limited to, an on-site personal observation and review of all exterior portions of the land and any buildings and improvements to which the inspector has or may reasonably and lawfully gain external access, and shall include an observation and review of the interior of any buildings or improvements on the property upon the timely request of the owner pursuant to subsection 11 of this section. Mere observation of the property via a "drive-by inspection" or the like shall not be considered sufficient to constitute a physical inspection as required by this section.

13. The provisions of subsections 11 and 12 of this section shall only apply in any county with a charter form of government with more than one million inhabitants.

14. A county or city collector may accept credit cards as proper form of payment of outstanding property tax or license due. No county or city collector may charge surcharge for payment by credit card which exceeds the fee or surcharge charged by the credit card bank, processor, or issuer for its service. A county or city collector may accept payment by electronic transfers of funds in payment of any tax or license and charge the person making such payment a fee equal to the fee charged the county by the bank, processor, or issuer of such electronic payment.

15. Any county or city not within a county in this state may, by an affirmative vote of the governing body of such county, opt out of the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100, RSMo, as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session and section 137.073 as modified by [this act] house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, for the next year of the general reassessment, prior to January first of any year. No county or city not within a county shall exercise this opt-out provision after implementing the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100, RSMo, as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session and section 137.073 as modified by [this act] house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, in a year of general reassessment. For the purposes of applying the provisions of this subsection, a political subdivision contained within two or more counties where at least one of such counties has opted out and at least one of such counties has not opted out shall calculate a single tax rate as in effect prior to the enactment of house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session. A governing body of a city not within a county or a county that has opted out under the provisions of this subsection may choose to implement the provisions of this section and sections 137.073, 138.060, and 138.100, RSMo, as enacted by house bill no. 1150 of the ninety-first general assembly, second regular session, and section 137.073 as modified by [this act] house committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for senate bill no. 960, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, for the next year of general reassessment, by an affirmative vote of the governing body prior to December thirty-first of any year.

16. The governing body of any city of the third classification with more than twenty-six thousand three hundred but fewer than twenty-six thousand seven hundred inhabitants located in any county that has exercised its authority to opt out under subsection 15 of this section may levy separate and differing tax rates for real and personal property only if such city bills and collects its own property taxes or satisfies the entire cost of the billing and collection of such separate and differing tax rates. Such separate and differing rates shall not exceed such city's tax rate ceiling."; and

FIFTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

You are worthy, O Lord God, to receive glory and honor and power. For You created all things and they exist because You created what You pleased.

A wise heart knows the proper time and procedure in all things. Since none of us knows the future, only You can reveal to us what is to come. Grant us insight that we may discern the proper time and procedure for every matter at hand.

Lord God, as we proceed through this day, may we diligently seek what is good and find favor with You and those we serve.

May You, Lord God, be with us as You have been from the start; for You will never leave us or abandon us. May You give us the desire to do Your will in everything and to obey all Your commands, decrees, and regulations. May these words that we have prayed in Your presence be before You constantly, day and night, so that You may give justice to us and to the people of this state according to each day's needs.

We ask these things in the name of Your Son. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Hannah Johnson, Jared Hathcoat, Kori Caswell, Kristy Gruchalla, Jamie King, Katherine Meidl, Mikayla Todd, Brady Bowen, Christian Locke, Brady Novak, Patrick Smith, Grant Taylor, Nathan Smith, Elizabeth Wedekind and Nicole Woolbright.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FIFTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Almighty God, God of Spring, of freedom and fresh hope,
You enkindle the sun after the death of winter.
You send the gentle rains
To renew the face of the Earth.
Bring us new life in the warmth of this season.

Bring us the life that strengthens us
For increasing justice and right, freedom and peace in our State and in our part of the world.

God of Hope, bring new life to the leaders of nations and of churches and religions, urging and energizing them in peace-making, that war and terror may end, and armed forces may return to their homelands.

We praise and honor You, our God, who live and reign forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

FIFTY-SIXTH DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Lord God, we thank You that You have made provision for us in all things; You are merciful and the source of our peace and rest. You are our shield to protect, hide and overshadow us.

Lord God, as we begin our week, may our words nourish and guide many; not lacking for want of understanding and heart. It has been said that the speech of a good person is worth waiting for; the wise measure their words. May this be so of us all.

Direct us in Your love, guide us in Your truth, make known to us the proper way that we may do what is beneficial to all we represent.

Now may praise, glory, wisdom, thanksgiving, honor, power, and might be to You forever and ever.

In the name of Your Son, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Marilynn Riekhof.

The Journal of the fifty-fifth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 94th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

---

FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 22, 2008

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Pratt in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Donald W. Lammers.

Let us pray, with a line from the Book of Genesis.

"In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth. . ." (Genesis 1:1).

Almighty God, Creator of all that exists, we stand humbly before You as Creator and Lord of "the earth and its fullness, the world and those who dwell in it," (Psalms 24:1). We stand in reverence as You call us to live in harmony with the earth, its land, water and air.

Guide us by Your gifts of knowledge and right judgment; empower us with Your grace; help us as public servants to advance the protection of the land, water and air for the use of all the people and for future generations.

Accompany us in all our work of this day. Then, in serving people to the best of our ability, we shall indeed, serve You.

To You, Creator and Lord, be glory and honor forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Eleanor Abbott Stream, Jane Louise Stream, Maryn Burns, Bjorn Carlson, Connor Locke and Caleb Seymour.
